Fighting Rages In Second Day

U.N. Command, Katanga Planes Roar Into Action

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—The air forces of both the U.N. command and Katanga went into action today as fighting raged for the second day in and near this secessionist capital.

Mortar blasts shook the residential area near U.N. headquarters and an old airport northwest of the city where Katanga forces were deployed.

A lone aircraft, from Katanga's small air force, a bomber converted from a German-made transport, raided the main Elisabethville airport held by U.N. troops, and dropped three bombs. A U.N. spokesman said there were no serious casualties or damage.

Indian Brig. K. A. S. Raja, who took over the U.N. operation in Katanga from civilians, announced U.N. jets strafed the Katanga air force at Kolwezi, northwest of Elisabethville.

He said Swedish jet fighters carried out the attack, and prevented an air attack on U.N. forces at Elisabethville. One of Katanga's French-built Fouga jets at Kolwezi succeeded in getting off the ground but made a forced landing near Luluabourg in adjoining Kasai Province, he said.

U.N. troops opened antiaircraft fire on another Katanga plane which circled the main airport.

At Leopoldville, the U.N. command announced that its 15-jet air force had been ordered to attack other Katanga air forces at Jadotville, 65 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

Six U.S. Air Force Globemasters took off from Leopoldville loaded with armored cars and antiaircraft guns for Elisabethville.

The United Nations steadily reinforced its ground troops. About 300 Swedes arrived from Stockholm and another 350 Irish soldiers were en route from Dublin.

Information Minister Albert Nyembo told newsmen Katanga mortar fire had driven the United Nations from its headquarters in Elisabethville, but Abdul Latif Sucgar, deputy U.N. civilian chief, denied this. He said Katanga mortar shells burst in the area occasionally and some had scored hits.

At the old airfield northwest of the city, a U.N. spokesman said, Katanga soldiers were being redeployed. "We are blasting them with mortars," he said.

The Katanga spokesman said the United Nations had withdrawn from the Lido Hotel, a rest area and one of the four U.N. points in the city.

Katanga broadcasts urged the people to fight.

"The United Nations has declared war on the little people of Katanga," one broadcast said. "The hour is grave, the moment has come. Arm yourself, sons and daughters of Katanga, arm yourself wherever you are, in your homes, your fields, your villages. Take up your spears and arrows and fight."

Each side accused the other of treachery Tuesday in the outbreak of fighting. The conflict followed a U.N. Security Council order to the U.N. Command to employ force if necessary to oust mercenaries in Katanga. The council has adopted a policy against Katanga's secession from the Congo.

The United Nations charged that Katangans secretly prepared a sneak attack while agreeing to remove roadblocks erected against U.N. movements.

In Paris, Katanga President Moise Tshombe said Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba had informed him U.N. troops had attacked Katanga forces in Manono, 275 miles north of Elisabethville, and the fighting in Katanga apparently had become general. Tshombe said he would leave for Katanga today.

More than 40 dead were reported from the fighting so far, but there was no possibility of an accurate count.

Heavy fighting was reported around the old airport just northwest of the city, where U.N. troops apparently were trying to clear out dug-in Katangan paratroopers. Correspondents David Halberstam of the New York Times and Virgil Berger of Reuters were holed up in a villa near there, cut off since Tuesday afternoon.

Late reports indicated that the center of fighting was moving nearer to Elisabethville.

Sporadic rifle and mortar fire had continued through the night, breaking an uneasy silence which fell on Elisabethville early in the evening after the new outbreak of hostilities.

Soviet's '62 Budget Will Be Record

Outlay To Include Staggering Hike In Military Spending

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today announced a record-breaking 1962 budget, including a staggering hike in military spending of almost 50 per cent over that originally planned in 1961.

The original 1961 figure was boosted tremendously last July because of U.S. military measures taken to meet the Berlin defense crisis, Soviet Premier Khrushchev said then.

The over-all budget for 1962 totals 81.9 billion rubles, Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov told the Supreme Soviet, the parliament of the Soviet Union, which began a session in the Grand Kremlin Palace today.

Garbuzov told the delegates defense expenditures in 1962 would total 13.4 billion rubles, or 16.7 per cent of the total, as compared with 9.22 billion rubles originally budgeted for 1961.

At the official rate of exchange, one ruble equals $1.11.

The new amount allotted to the Soviet armed forces is more than a billion rubles more than the total allotted on both a regular and emergency basis during 1961.

But this is no longer emergency financing, and it indicated the Soviet government expects world tension to stay at a high pitch during the coming year.

In the related field of science, which includes most programs of weapon development, the budget figure was set at 4.3 billion rubles. Last year it was 3.8 billion.

(The United States budgeted $46.6 billion for defense in 1962. However, comparision of Soviet and American budgets is almost impossible. Many Soviet military expenses are buried in allocations ostensibly for civilian production).

The 1962 budget is 3.6 billion rubles bigger than last year's, but Garbuzov said the government actually planned to spend only 80.3 billion rubles.

He reported a surplus of 1.6 billion rubles for 1961 also.

The Supreme Soviet is certain to approve the budget before conclusion of its session, which also will discuss the nation's 1962 economic plan and approve changes in the civil law code.

Urges Cooperation With Europe Unit To Stimulate Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a lowering of tariffs in a "new and bold" program to frustrate Communist plans for economic encirclement of the West.

He urged U.S. cooperation with the European Common Market along with lower tariffs to stimulate trade among friendly nations.

If the nations of the West can agree "on a common program of action as extraordinary in economic history as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was unprecedented in military history," the President said, "the long-range Communist aim of dividing and encircling us all is doomed to failure."

"I am not proposing—nor is it either necessary or desirable—that we join the Common Market, alter our concepts of political sovereignty, establish a 'rich man's' trading community, abandon our traditional most-favored nation policy, create an Atlantic free trade area or impair in any way our close economic ties with Canada, Japan and the rest of the free world," he said.

Kennedy picked a conference of industrialists to preview in broad terms the authority he will seek from Congress to give him greater freedom in bargaining for tariff favors.

That authority would reduce levies on some U.S. imports and increase foreign competition with U.S. industry.

But, Kennedy said in a speech prepared for the National Association of Manufacturers congress of American industry: "Economic isolation and political leadership are wholly incompatible."

He said that reciprocal cuts in tariffs on both sides of the Atlantic would increase U.S. sales abroad and thus strengthen both this country and its allies.

He called for economic cooperation between the United States and the European Common Market, an association of six nations in which Great Britain has applied for membership. Some 90 per cent of free world industrial production may soon be concentrated in these two great markets, he said.

"I am proposing, in short, a new American trade initiative which will make it possible for the economic potential of these two great markets to be harnessed together into a team capable of pulling the full weight of our common military, economic and political aspirations," Kennedy said.

The President confirmed speculation that he would ask Congress for power to bargain with other nations for tariff reductions by such entire categories of goods as industrial equipment or textiles, for example, instead of item-by-item.

Tariff negotiations under the reciprocal trade agreements law now are limited to a tit-for-tat easing of barriers on single goods. That law expires next June.

"It must not simply be renewed," Kennedy said. "It must be replaced."

The President did not give any particulars on the authority he wants, but he left no doubt that he would launch at once his own campaign for a greater flow of international trade.

25 Hijack East German Train, Escape To West

BERLIN (AP)— A daring railroad engineer and 24 friends and relatives hijacked an East German train Tuesday night and roared at 50 miles an hour past startled border guards to safety in West Berlin.

"We knew we would make it," said Harry Deterling, 28, the engineer. He said food shortages and political pressure had made life unbearable in East Germany.

Seven passengers not in on the plot—including the angry conductor—chose to return to the Communist sector. An East German switching locomotive pulled the steam locomotive and eight cars of the escape train back over the little-used section of track to East Germany.

The well-planned escape—hastened by reports the Communists were planning to block the section of track Dec. 10—came off without a hitch.

Border police, taken by surprise, didn't fire a shot.

Deterling said he began planning the escape last Thursday with Hartmut Lichy, his fireman, members of his family and friends. The escapees included the engineer's mother, wife and four children.

Deterling arranged to make an "acquaintance run" on the Oranienburg-Albrechtshof line.

"Everybody was told to be at Oranienburg station for the departure of the regular late evening train to Albrechtsof. We were 21 in all. That included an 8-day-old baby born only a day before we planned the escape."

The other four got on at Falkensee, the next to last stop. Albrechtshof, the last stop on the line, is about a quarter of a mile short of the border.

Deterling said a transport policeman aboard and the conductor went wild when they realized the train wasn't stopping at Albrechtshof.

"But what could they do but shout?" Deterline related smilingly. "We had disconnected the emergency braking system. They couldn't stop the train."

Adlai Decides Against Bid For Senate

President Delighted Over Decision Of Chief U.N. Delegate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —With President Kennedy's "delighted" approval and promise of a bigger part in U.S. foreign policy, Adlai E. Stevenson decided Tuesday to remain at his United Nations post and to pass up an Illinois race for the U.S. Senate.

Stevenson disclosed last Saturday that he was considering running for the seat held by Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican Senate leader, at the request of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

His decision to continue as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations surprised political experts who believed Stevenson had not been in full agreement with some of the Kennedy administration's foreign policies. It was understood that in exchange for his agreement to remain, Kennedy would consult him more often.

The former Illinois governor, twice an unsuccessful Democratic presidential nominee, announced his decision as Kennedy flew to New York for a speaking visit.

"I have today informed Mayor Daley of Chicago that I cannot be the Democratic candidate for the Senate," Stevenson said. "In recent conferences, the President has greatly reinforced my view that I can best serve him and the country in the field of foreign policy. I am most grateful for the good will of my party leaders in Illinois and am mindful of the great honor they have done me."

Kennedy, who discussed the matter with Stevenson twice last weekend, issued this statement: "I am delighted at Gov. Stevenson's decision. I expressed to him this weekend my emphatic hope that he would continue at the United Nations and play an expanding role in the making and execution of our foreign policy.

"I believe that his work is vital to the cause of peace and of top importance to the country."

Drunk Driver Penalties Due To Be Stiffer

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff warned today from the bench he will deal severely with persons convicted of drunken driving during the Christmas season.

The judge issued the statement after imposing a $250 fine and a 10-day jail term on Arnold G. Hooper, 31, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, arrested at 12:32 this morning on Dresden Ave. on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also ordered a six-month suspension of the driver's license of Hooper, auto body shop mechanic and father of six. Hooper pleaded guilty.

"This is the fifth case of driving while intoxicated that has come before me in a week," the judge said. "It's appalling!"

After impsoing sentence on Hooper, he added: "You're one of the fortunate ones. The penalty may be stiffer later."

"We're approaching the time of year when night falls early, increasing the hazards for motorists and pedestrians," the judge commented. "It's fine to anticipate the joyousness of the season, but to appreciate it you must be here."

The judge pointed out that he always has followed a policy on drunken drivers that is designed to increase highway safety.

"I said when I assumed the bench and I repeat now — if I can save one life I will feel I have done a good job," he added.

The judge pointed out that "five prominent people from this area have had their lives snuffed out in traffic accidents in the last two and a half weeks."

"Those are five nice people who won't be here this Christmas because of traffic accidents," he said.

"Something drastic is going to be done in these cases for the balance of this month," the judge said. "I intend to be rough. I want to warn the public in advance. People had better learn that they must get their driving habits straightened out."

Cumberland's Clerk Resigns Over 'Burden'

Mary Newburn Blames Council For Increase In Duties

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. Mary Lou Newburn, office clerk and employe in Town Hall since 1951, submitted her resignation to Council Tuesday night.

She has been clerk since 1957 and served previously as recorder for about six years.

In her letter of resignation, effective Jan. 1, Mrs. Newburn cited "added burdens" placed on her by Council's plans to construct a new sewage disposal plant and improvements to the water system.

Council took the resignation under advisement, and is expected to act at a later date. Mrs. Newburn is also editor of the Hancock County Courier weekly newspaper.

Council approved the proposal of the Water and Sewage Board that it accept low bids submitted for construction of the sewage plant and improvements to the water system.

Council is scheduled to meet with the Magnus Bonding Co. of Cincinnati Monday night to discuss final arrangements for adoption of a $230,000 bond issue to finance the two projects.

Third and final reading was given to a franchise ordinance of the Monongahela Power Co. for improvements to the firm's electrical circuits in the town.

Councilman Welty Vulgamore presided in the absence of Nick Nardo, president, and Mayor Albert Fuccy. Next meeting is Jan. 9.

Hobart M. Kraner Named To Get Bleininger Award

Hobart McKinley Kraner, associate director of research for the Bethlehem Steel Co. in Bethlehem, Pa., has been named 1962 recipient of the Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics.

The announcement was made in Pittsburgh Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society and research director of the award in memory of Dr. A. V. Bleininger, a founder of the society and research director of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at the time of his death about 15 years ago.

Kraner has worked professionally in ceramic research since he was graduated from Ohio State University with a degree in ceramic engineering in 1921 and a master of science degree in 1922.

In addition to thermochemical studies of phase relationships in ceramics, he has been active in translating research into solution of refractory problems.

Furthering his work in ceramics, in 1938 he obtained the professional degree of ceramic engineer from Ohio State.

A recent concern has been the problem of refractories for ferromanganese blast furnaces. His paper will be cited as a classic, fellow ceramists said. He is a specialist in the use of petrography and thermodynamics to study problems in iron and steel making.

The gold medal and scroll emblematic of the award will be presented Kraner at a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section in March.

Announcement of his selection was made at a dinner meeting of the group last night at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh. A technical session followed at Mellon Institute.

New Katanga Crisis Eyed By UN Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A new Security Council session on the latest Katanga crisis was forecast today as U.N. Secretary-General U Thant prepared a report to the 11-nation body on the outbreak of fighting between U.N. and Katangan troops in the secessionist Congo province.

Faced with the gravest crisis since he took office a month ago, U Thant moved swiftly to place the United Nations on a virtual war footing in Katanga and hinted he might make a personal mission to the Congo.

Delegates felt that U Thant's promise to give the council a full report on the latest Katanga events indicated he will be quicker to seek guidance from the United Nations' top security body than his predecessor, the late Dag Hammarskjold.

They also expressed belief that the new U.N. chief's quick dispatch of jet planes and troop reinforcements into Katanga showed he intends to take a tough stand and use all means at his disposal to quell disorder in the Congo.

U Thant ordered up reinforcements as word reached here that the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville had placed U.S. Globemaster planes at the U.N. command's disposal to ferry troops into the Katanga capital of Elisabethville.

Hobart McKinley Kraner, associate director of research for the Bethlehem Steel Co. in Bethlehem, Pa., has been named 1962 recipient of the Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics.

The announcement was made in Pittsburgh Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society and research director of the award in memory of Dr. A. V. Bleininger, a founder of the society and research director of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at the time of his death about 15 years ago.

Kraner has worked professionally in ceramic research since he was graduated from Ohio State University with a degree in ceramic engineering in 1921 and a master of science degree in 1922.

In addition to thermochemical studies of phase relationships in ceramics, he has been active in translating research into solution of refractory problems.

Furthering his work in ceramics, in 1938 he obtained the professional degree of ceramic engineer from Ohio State.

A recent concern has been the problem of refractories for ferromanganese blast furnaces. His paper will be cited as a classic, fellow ceramists said. He is a specialist in the use of petrography and thermodynamics to study problems in iron and steel making.

The gold medal and scroll emblematic of the award will be presented Kraner at a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section in March.

Announcement of his selection was made at a dinner meeting of the group last night at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh. A technical session followed at Mellon Institute.

New Katanga Crisis Eyed By UN Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A new Security Council session on the latest Katanga crisis was forecast today as U.N. Secretary-General U Thant prepared a report to the 11-nation body on the outbreak of fighting between U.N. and Katangan troops in the secessionist Congo province.

Faced with the gravest crisis since he took office a month ago, U Thant moved swiftly to place the United Nations on a virtual war footing in Katanga and hinted he might make a personal mission to the Congo.

Delegates felt that U Thant's promise to give the council a full report on the latest Katanga events indicated he will be quicker to seek guidance from the United Nations' top security body than his predecessor, the late Dag Hammarskjold.

They also expressed belief that the new U.N. chief's quick dispatch of jet planes and troop reinforcements into Katanga showed he intends to take a tough stand and use all means at his disposal to quell disorder in the Congo.

U Thant ordered up reinforcements as word reached here that the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville had placed U.S. Globemaster planes at the U.N. command's disposal to ferry troops into the Katanga capital of Elisabethville.

Sen. Blake Will Run For Seventh Term

State Sen. Arthur Blake, Martins Ferry Democrat, has announced he will be a candidate for nomination to his seventh term in the Ohio Senate in the party primary in May.

Sen. Blake, a former coal miner, represents the 20th-22nd Senatorial District, which include Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison Counties.

In the past legislature he was a member of the agriculture and conservation and rules committees.

Bell, former clerk of Wellsville City Council, who is owner and operator of Bell's Market of Wellsville, was elected in 1958, suceeding I. J. Vorndran.

Adlai Decides Against Bid For Senate

President Delighted Over Decision Of Chief U.N. Delegate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —With President Kennedy's "delighted" approval and promise of a bigger part in U.S. foreign policy, Adlai E. Stevenson decided Tuesday to remain at his United Nations post and to pass up an Illinois race for the U.S. Senate.

Stevenson disclosed last Saturday that he was considering running for the seat held by Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican Senate leader, at the request of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

His decision to continue as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations surprised political experts who believed Stevenson had not been in full agreement with some of the Kennedy administration's foreign policies. It was understood that in exchange for his agreement to remain, Kennedy would consult him more often.

The former Illinois governor, twice an unsuccessful Democratic presidential nominee, announced his decision as Kennedy flew to New York for a speaking visit.

"I have today informed Mayor Daley of Chicago that I cannot be the Democratic candidate for the Senate," Stevenson said. "In recent conferences, the President has greatly reinforced my view that I can best serve him and the country in the field of foreign policy. I am most grateful for the good will of my party leaders in Illinois and am mindful of the great honor they have done me."

Kennedy, who discussed the matter with Stevenson twice last weekend, issued this statement: "I am delighted at Gov. Stevenson's decision. I expressed to him this weekend my emphatic hope that he would continue at the United Nations and play an expanding role in the making and execution of our foreign policy.

"I believe that his work is vital to the cause of peace and of top importance to the country."

Area Boy, 10, Struck As Motorist Swerves

A 10-year-old Y. & O. Rd. boy was injured when struck by a car as he and two other youngsters were on the way to school this morning about 8:30 near his home.

Donald Davio, son of Mrs. Mary Davio, is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a possible fractured left leg received when struck by the auto driven by Eugene Bowyer of R. D. 1, who said he swerved to avoid an approaching truck, witnesses reported.

Drunk Driver Penalties Due To Be Stiffer

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff warned today from the bench he will deal severely with persons convicted of drunken driving during the Christmas season.

The judge issued the statement after imposing a $250 fine and a 10-day jail term on Arnold G. Hooper, 31, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, arrested at 12:32 this morning on Dresden Ave. on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also ordered a six-month suspension of the driver's license of Hooper, auto body shop mechanic and father of six. Hooper pleaded guilty.

"This is the fifth case of driving while intoxicated that has come before me in a week," the judge said. "It's appalling!"

After impsoing sentence on Hooper, he added: "You're one of the fortunate ones. The penalty may be stiffer later."

"We're approaching the time of year when night falls early, increasing the hazards for motorists and pedestrians," the judge commented. "It's fine to anticipate the joyousness of the season, but to appreciate it you must be here."

The judge pointed out that he always has followed a policy on drunken drivers that is designed to increase highway safety.

"I said when I assumed the bench and I repeat now — if I can save one life I will feel I have done a good job," he added.

The judge pointed out that "five prominent people from this area have had their lives snuffed out in traffic accidents in the last two and a half weeks."

"Those are five nice people who won't be here this Christmas because of traffic accidents," he said.

"Something drastic is going to be done in these cases for the balance of this month," the judge said. "I intend to be rough. I want to warn the public in advance. People had better learn that they must get their driving habits straightened out."

Striking Cambridge Potters Ordered Back

Charles F. Jordan, secretary of the IBOP, ordered union members at the Universal Potteries at Cambridge to return to work today after an unauthorized strike Tuesday over the discharge of an employe.

The walkout developed yesterday in a protest by Local 241 of the tile plant. The members claimed the firing was in violation of their contract but Jordan telegraphed an order for them to return pending discussion of the dispute, the IBOP office said. The firm employs over 200.

Cumberland's Clerk Resigns Over 'Burden'

Mary Newburn Blames Council For Increase In Duties

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. Mary Lou Newburn, office clerk and employe in Town Hall since 1951, submitted her resignation to Council Tuesday night.

She has been clerk since 1957 and served previously as recorder for about six years.

In her letter of resignation, effective Jan. 1, Mrs. Newburn cited "added burdens" placed on her by Council's plans to construct a new sewage disposal plant and improvements to the water system.

Council took the resignation under advisement, and is expected to act at a later date. Mrs. Newburn is also editor of the Hancock County Courier weekly newspaper.

Council approved the proposal of the Water and Sewage Board that it accept low bids submitted for construction of the sewage plant and improvements to the water system.

Council is scheduled to meet with the Magnus Bonding Co. of Cincinnati Monday night to discuss final arrangements for adoption of a $230,000 bond issue to finance the two projects.

Third and final reading was given to a franchise ordinance of the Monongahela Power Co. for improvements to the firm's electrical circuits in the town.

Councilman Welty Vulgamore presided in the absence of Nick Nardo, president, and Mayor Albert Fuccy. Next meeting is Jan. 9.

Woman Repels Youth In Try At Purse Theft

Mrs. Hazel Walton, 610 Dresden Ave., told police she successfully fought off a youth who attempted to snatch her purse Monday night at 11:20 as she entered the hallway leading to her upstairs apartment.

Mrs. Walton told police the young man approached her and struck up a conversation as she entered the hallway from the street. After a moment, he attempted to grab her purse, but she resisted and clung to the pocketbook, she said.

The youth ran down the stairs and fled onto the street, Mrs. Walton said.

Oath Of Office Given Mayor For New Term

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet received the oath of office Tuesday afternoon from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff for the new two-year term he will begin Jan. 1.

The judge administered the oath to the mayor in a brief ceremony early yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office. Then the judge affixed his signature to the official bond, which Council had approved Monday night.

Goodballet, a Democrat, will begin his second term on New Year's Day. He took office Jan. 1, 1960, succeeding former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Republican. Goodballet won his second term in a Nov. 7 victory over O. Earl Greenawalt, Republican.

But It Wasn't That Simple

Fidel Castro says he always has been a Communist.

Taking him at his word, many of us would like to write off the Cuban dictator as a lifelong agent of the Kremlin and to say that all whoever took Castro seriously were fools.

That would include many of us who would be doing the writing off. It wasn't that simple when Castro and his bearded revolutionaries came out of the hills to rout the corrupt and brutal regime of Fulgencio Batista.

Those who suspected him then of being a Communist had more than a suspicion that Batista was a terrorist and his overthrow was overdue. Castro was the instrument for correction of a grave fault in Cuba.

Herbert L. Matthews, New York Times correspondent who has studied Castro closely, insists that the Cuban revolutionist was a bona fide opponent of Batista terrorism when he came to power and that the United States forced him into the Kremlin's sphere of influence by barring him from good standing in its own sphere.

Mr. Matthews' head has been beaten in for his pains, and Castro's confession of lifelong devotion to Marxism will be the coup de grace. "New evidence may change the picture," Matthews wrote in a book on Castro published last September, "but on the evidence available and on my personal knowledge of Fidel Castro, I have always said and I still say that he was not and is not a Communist."

The twist that history has given to Castro in Cuba very well could be that he is now a tool of Communism because he has become so deeply involved with Communists in Cuba that he has lost his freedom of choice. Whether that's the way it has turned out, or whether Castro always has been an agent of Communism, he came to power because he was able to overthrow a regime in Cuba that had nothing in its favor except its claim of being anti-Communist.

In a showdown between Batista and Castro, Cubans and all others who wanted a better life for Cubans had to choose Castro. They couldn't choose Batista.

Vandals And Victims

There are some in the district who seriously advocate the return of the public whipping post for anyone convicted of the senseless and costly vandalism wreaked periodically upon homes and business property.

Fortunately there is no great epidemic, but the damage mounts steadily over the months. It would be difficult to determine the thousands of dollars such crimes cost. For example, the damage by vandals to a contractor's equipment on the Freeway project. And there are the broken windows, scratched autos or defaced buildings that are never reported.

There is little or no justification for any crime, but destruction of property or endangering of life by pure stupidity or malicious urge is especially offensive. It is fortunate for the heartless hoodlums who are caught — and they often are caught — that their punishment isn't meted out by their victims.

Threat With No Meaning

The United States is supposed to shudder at the Soviet Union's threat to retaliate with more nuclear blasts unless the Western Powers suspend all testing.

This includes such testing as now is going forward in this country — underground low-yield tests that do not contaminate the air. It also would cover such testing as might be undertaken by Great Britain and France.

But where is the threat as far as the Soviet Union is concerned?

It already has shown by its 31-blast series ending last Nov. 4 that it will test nuclear devices whenever it feels like it; that it will not be bound by any consideration.

Negotiations to ban nuclear testing began Oct. 31, 1958, when the United States and Great Britain concluded a series of tests. The Soviet Union ended a series on Nov. 4, 1958, having accepted the voluntary moratorium proposed by the United States and Britain.

It broke the moratorium without warning last September. Negotiations were stopped, in the light of this cynical rebuke to the spirit of negotiation by the Russian government.

Nothing could have made it more obvious that the Russian government has no real interest in a moratorium on nuclear testing. Its interest is only in carrying on negotiations, to lull other governments into a sense of security.

"In these circumstances," said the United States when arranging for resumption of negotiations, "the United States will continue to take such action as it deems necessary to safeguard its national security until a controlled test-ban agreement is achieved."

The Russian threat to resume testing if anyone else starts testing is empty. The Russians will resume testing when they feel like it. So will the United States. So, presumably, will Britain and France.

Still Not A Big Happy Family

When George Meany and Walter Reuther of AFL-CIO take potshots at each other in the newspapers, it's news. But what does it mean in unionism?

Some diehard opponents of unionism hope it means the two labor leaders are going to do a Kilkenny cat act and devour each other.

Other diehard opponents and critics hope it means the two men and their followers will lock horns and use up their strength in irreconcilable inner conflict.

But there is a longer view of the Meany-Reuther differences of opinion as well as of most differences of opinion in the American labor movement. Union leaders don't care for it, though many of them are acutely aware of the long view, too.

In the long view, the dream of a "big happy family" is no closer to realization now than it used to be. And this is a fortunate thing for unionists.

Unionism is essentially a political movement. Like politics it is the "art of the possible" — the practice of getting things done in behalf of a constituency.

And like all politics in the United States, unionism finds itself following the classic line of opposing factions — a two-party system. Among its members there are two points of view, even when there is no tolerance for organized opposition.

There are the "ins" and the "outs," the same as there are majorities and minorities in legislatures. There is the party in power and the party out of power, and it is the possibility the party out of power might pick up enough followers to become the party in power that keeps the dominant party on its toes.

There is also an endless sparring for position — and this could account for the potshotting between AFL-CIO President Meany and United Auto Workers President Reuther.

Certainly it could account for all the other potshotting, like that between AFL-CIO leaders and James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union. All of these men are in the politics of unionism. They are maneuvering for position. They never will be members of a big happy family, and they know it. There is no danger of totalitarianism in unionism in America.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ever since Paul Revere's ride won over British entry, Boston has been crazy over horses. Recent TV hidden camera exposure of Beantown horse parlor showed bookie joint had been operating in guise of key store undisturbed almost since "Clatter of hoofs in a village street".

Program was no special slam at Boston, but produced to give an example of situation existing in many big cities and plenty of small towns. It was a "shocker" (to paraphrase Longfellow), indicating a "shape in the moonlight, a key-shop in the dark" could be forerunner of an airwave crime crusade.

Cameras showed endless parade of bettors in and out of key store. If half the inhabitants of Boston had lost key rings there couldn't have been that many key buyers. Telecast showed numerous cops in with horse players. It wasn't hard for folks to imagine bettor whispering "I'm here for a key," getting answer "Straight, place or show?"

Bookies everywhere in United States are jittery over Boston telecast and probably thousands of windows are being watched for hidden cameras. "Search buildings across the street" (is current slogan, and any stranger coming into any key shop or "reasonable facsimile thereof" with a lunchbox is apt to get tossed out, even if there is just a cheese sandwich, not a camera, inside.

Bookies are so suspicious they may think sandwich has a concealed tape recorder.

It looks like an exciting year ahead if TV does its own crime programs. The whole underworld is apprehensive. It can't tell when it is getting auditions for television's most thrilling program.

NEBRASKA DENTIST does work on cows. But it will continue to be tough getting a cow to see a dentist twice a year.

It takes tact to get at cow's teeth. It naturally thinks the man is at the wrong end and seems to register "Kindly step to the rear" expression.

> Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn,
> The cows are with the dentists, their uppers badly worn.

New hit comedy "Sunday In New York" never faced fear it might have to close Monday.

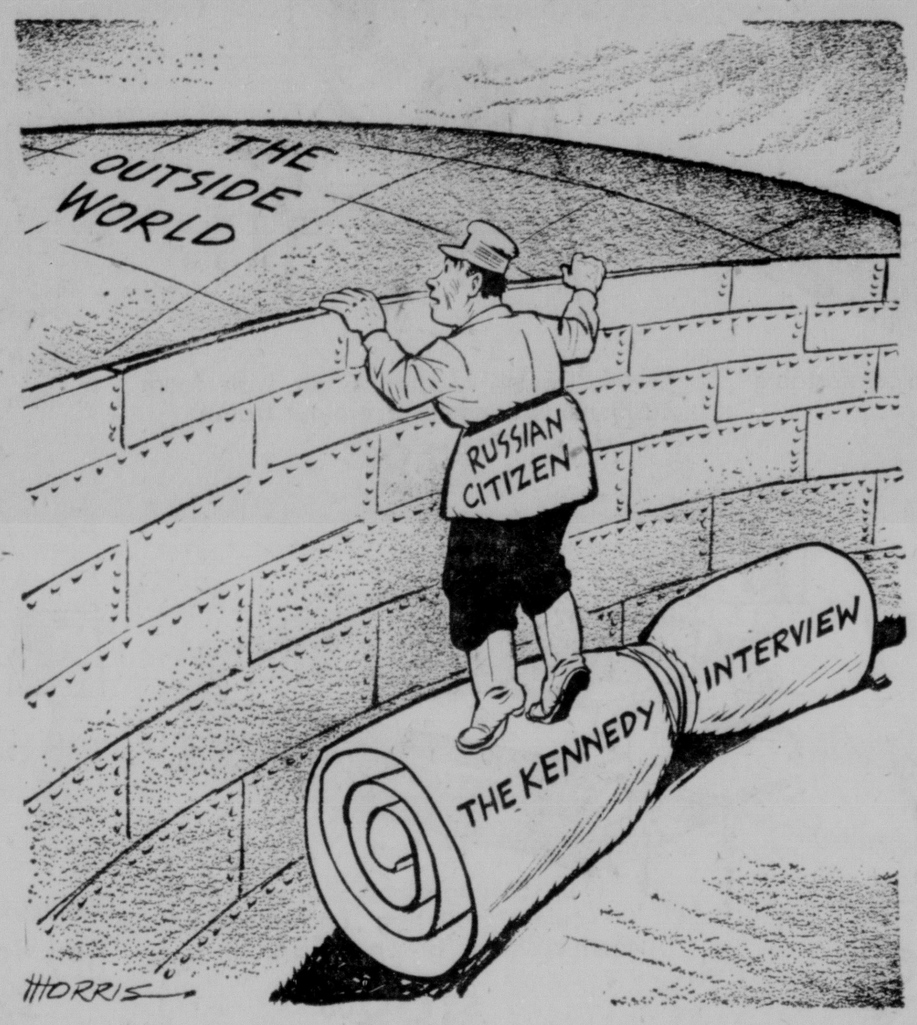
Gotham Police captain was fined $400 for taking three hours for restaurant dinner while on duty. Maybe he ordered unboned shad or a chop on which he had trouble finding meat.

Cornell professor, Hans A. Bethe, won not only medal but $50,000 from Atomic Energy Board for best contribution to nuclear physics in 1961. This should rid him of any concern over whether he can afford a fall-out shelter.

Ima Dodo thinks Broadway play "Daughter of Silence" is about a girl whose parents talk so much she can't get a word in edgeways.

Over billion dollars was bet on races in New York this season. This supports claim that people in big cities are apt to be mentally unsound.

Now That He's Had A Peek . . .



An Overnight Stop In Siberia

By Rowland Evans Jr.

OMSK, Siberia

Our twin-engine Tupolev jet, loaded with Muscovites, just sat there on the snowy runway and it quickly became apparent that we weren't going to make Irkutsk on this night. We had come 1,500 miles in a little over three hours to the half-way point. Another 1,500 miles due east over the frozen Siberian forests lay ahead.

Bad weather in Irkutsk, and we were to spend the night in this closed city of Omsk, off-bounds to Western tourists. It was like flying to Seattle and coming down in Cheyenne for an un-scheduled overnight stopover, waiting for the weather to clear in Seattle.

THE PASSENGERS on the Aeroflot jet behaved remarkably like the American equivalent: first chagrin, then outrage, then humor.

An Intourist official who spoke a few words of English, and who was working hard to master the language, finally boarded the plane and used six carefully-chosen words to tell me the story:

"Weather Irkutsk. Spend night here, please."

The mood on the plane was shifting from chagrin to outrage. Babies were bundled into the arms of their mothers and the passengers reached for their sacks of fruit and started down the ramp onto the frigid snow-covered apron. Everybody had a sack of fruit. In Irkutsk fruit is a precious commodity and hard to come by.

For the sole American aboard, the prospect of being stranded at Omsk with a planeload of Russians was quite exciting. Russians at heart are a friendly lot, full of laughs and good humor.

But in Moscow and other Russian cities in the west, where the tourist has become a fixture as statues of Lenin, an American has few opportunities to see this side of them. Shyness, reserve or perhaps suspicion of being seen in Western company often drop a curtain between the traveler and the people.

WE WAITED briefly in the snow, until a bus pulled up. It was fiercely cold. The children were oblong bundles of fur. All you could see of them was the triangle of two bright eyes and a red nose. One after another, they tumbled down the ramp and into the bus. The bus waited and waited, as buses do everywhere, while the windows clouded over with frost.

The temperature was minus 8, centigrade, which is about 18 degrees, fahrenheit. Finally, the airport bus grunted and moved away from the plane. By now the jokes inside the bus were crackling. The humor of the situation had taken hold. The Intourist guide made adequate translations.

Suddenly the bus stopped. A long argument ensued with a distraught passenger. The bus turned around and returned to the plane. Everybody laughed.

"One passenger left his fruit on the plane," the stewardess explained. "He wishes to go back and get it because otherwise it will freeze in the plane tonight and be spoiled." The man disappeared up the ramp and came out a moment later with his fruit — a couple of melons, half a dozen oranges, a few apples and a cucumber, clustered in a mesh sack, which he had promished his wife to bring home from Moscow.

BACK in the bus, and off again for the airport hotel. This was a new, low-slung building. The large entrance hall was filled with cots, all neatly laid out with blankets and sheets. The smaller hallways to left and right, giving onto the 20 or so rooms in the place, were also lined with cots. We were not the only plane down in Omsk that night.

It was like spending the night in an emergency hospital ward. In minutes the children were fast asleep. Not much later so were the grown-ups. The tourist from America was given a room to himself with a decanter of water, the only water in the hotel. The main supply for some reason had been cut off. Soon the only thing to be heard was the rhythmic breathing of the sleepers, and the distant roar of an occasional jet taking off for Moscow.

At seven the next morning, the weather having cleared at Irkutsk, we were routed out of our beds and once again moved into the airport bus, thence to the Tupolev jet. The temperature was now near 10 degrees fahrenheit, and we flew off into a brilliant Siberian sunrise.

An Emotional Marxist

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Fidel Castro is an emotional Marxist, not an intellectual one. And, because he is, his road to communism in Cuba should continue to be unpredictable, erratic, opportunistic, and probably bloody and chaotic.

The difference between intellect and emotion in Castro was spelled out in his Saturday broadcast in which he explained how long it took him to become a Marxist-Leninist.

But then, admitting he is taking Cuba into communism, he said his program will be "Marxist-Leninist but adapted to conditions existing in our country."

This makes him no less a problem for the United States but in time it should also make him a problem for both Moscow and Peiping.

The Russians and Red Chinese are having trouble enough with one another on what road to take without seeing Castro riding off in still another direction like Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

It is no wonder Premier Khrushchev, in his Vienna talk with President Kennedy last June, called Castro unstable and said he is not a Communist.

Castro listed three stages in his development which show he became a Marxist as a result of events and not of a cool intellectual determination.

When he was a student in Havana, son of a rich landowner, he was not a Marxist because he was influenced, he said, by capitalist propaganda. This would indicate he was then anti-Communist. He was 23 when he was graduated from Havana University in 1950 with a law degree and a doctorate.

At 26, he said, his thinking was pretty much as it is now. But, if he can be believed, this can hardly have been the case since he then said he didn't become a Marxist-Leninist until he took over Cuba three years ago at 32.

The Cuban Communists had doubts about him. When he was fighting in the hills against the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, which he toppled at the beginning of 1959, the Communists refused to take part in a general strike he called for.

At that time, a State Department white paper said earlier this year, "when Castro first went to the hills the Cuban Communist party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.'"

As recently as Nov. 27, 1960, Max Frankel, writing in the New York Times about interviews he had with Communist leaders almost two years after Castro came to power, said: "The party has had its differences with Dr. Castro but they occurred, in the words of one of its leaders, 'before he understood.'"

One of the leaders told Frankel: "In the early days after Castro seized power here the Communist party had many disagreements with him about tactics and ideology. Gradually, however, it was able to convince him that anti-communism was a threat to his revolution and power.

"Thereafter, the ideological differences withered away until now there are only 'little things between us.' Premier Castro does not like a few of our ideas and we do not like a few of his—nothing important."

In short, Castro was had. He bought Marxism not because he had thought it through but because it gave him some sense of direction, which he didn't seem to have, and, above all, it was expedient.

On Jan. 8, 1959, a few days after he took over, he promised to "give the people love." Since then he has executed over 600 people.

The State Department white paper sums it up "The history of the Castro revolution has been the history of the calculated destruction of the free-spirited rebel army—of the disillusion, persecution, imprisonment, exile, and execution of men and women who supported Dr. Castro."

Castro, judged by his own words and actions, is a man stumbling from one year into the next.

Allied Disunity

By David Lawrence

French Irritated By Kennedy Interview

Diplomacy by means of published interviews has struck a snag among the Western Allies. Outwardly, Great Britain and West Germany have gone along but rumblings in France have become noticeable.

David Lawrence

President De Gaulle, for instance, thought the interview given by President Kennedy to the editor of Izvestia — who happens to be Khrushchev's son-in-law — was a serious error in tactics. A significant dispatch from Paris published this week in "U.S. News & World Report" says that the Izvestia interview is regarded in the French capital "as the latest in a series of tragic mistakes." It adds:

"President De Gaulle is convinced that President Kennedy is prepared to sacrifice West German interests in order to save Western rights in Berlin. He fears disillusionment on the part of the West Germans that can lead first toward neutralism, then toward a deal with Russia to reunite the two Germanys.

"De Gaulle's belief is that 'another Yalta' is in the making and he sees no reason why France should participate in any such negotiations with Russia. De Gaulle's view is that if the United States and Britain are determined to negotiate with Russia there is nothing he can do to stop them. But France will not take part on the basis set forth in the Kennedy interview.

"As the French president sees it: Mr. Kennedy, in the interview, wasn't just talking to Soviet public opinion. He was talking to Khrushchev, too. In his (De Gaulle's) opinion, the interview amounted to negotiating in public about issues and U.S. proposals on which the Western Allies are not agreed.

"THE INTERVIEW, it is pointed out here, covered much more than the area for possible negotiation that Mr. Kennedy and Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed to in their recent meeting.

"At that meeting, it was agreed to limit negotiations with Russia to Berlin. But, in the published interview, Mr. Kennedy talked of restricting West German armament.

"He talked of negotiationg to 'keep the peace in central Europe.' He indicated a willingness to accept a divided Germany for 15 years, if agreement is reached on Berlin.

"He seemed ready to accept a Soviet peace treaty with Communist East Germany, if Western rights in Berlin are protected. . . .

"In recent weeks, representatives of the United States, West Germany, Britain and France have been meeting to discuss proposals they might make to Russia if a conference is called. . . .

"It is understood here that one of the American proposals was to create an 'international administration' over all access routes to West Berlin — by air as well as land and water. This idea was advanced by Mr. Kennedy in his interview with Izvestia, although United States and the Allies, themselves, are not agreed on the idea. It was the bringing of such proposals out into the open at this stage that disturbed De Gaulle. He feels that the United States is going too far and moving too fast in its efforts to come to terms with the Soviet Union."

THE QUESTION naturally arises as to what part, if any, the secretary of state himself played in the handling of the President's interview with the editor of Izvestia. It would be surprising to find that a diplomat of experience would approve of the revelation of delicate matters under discussion with allies without consulting them in advance as to the wisdom of such disclosure.

Just how seriously the French regard the mistake is indicated in the concluding paragraph of the Paris Dispatch quoted in part above:

"As French officials see it: if there was a chance after the Kennedy - Adenauer talks that De Gaulle finally would agree to participate in the preparations for a conference with Russia, that chance almost disappeared after the Kennedy interview with Nikita Khrushchev's son-in-law."

The tendency to go it alone in a matter of Allied strategy probably will be called in quarters here as necessary in order to bring about, through world opinion, the harmony that is not achievable through diplomatic channels. But it is risky business.

Already Walter Ulbricht, the East German leader, has denounced the Kennedy proposal—made publicly for the first time in the Izvestia interview — for an international administration of access routes to West Berlin from West Germany.

This is one tactic that Moscow employes to knock down the President's proposals with the idea of getting more and more concessions before the negotiations actually begin. President De Gaulle feels that the Russians should come to the West with proposals for negotiation and that the West should not take the initiative in offering bargaining proposals to Khrushchev.

WITHIN ANOTHER WEEK the foreign ministers of the Western Allies are due to meet in Paris. So far as is known, they have not as yet come to any agreement on the main proposals to be made to Russia and that is why it is wholly unprecedented for public statements to be issued that tend to commit the allies to a position which they themselves have not all accepted.

Dissension among Allies is not surprising, but to express differences publicly in advance of a negotiation makes it difficult for any foreign minister or secretary of state to perform effectively the duties of his office.

The State Department here is frequently under fire, and some of the White House aides are sometimes impatient with its slow - moving tendencies, but in the long run it's better to listen to your doctor or lawyer, as they know from experience with other cases the pitfalls arising from indifference to competent advisors.

Blue For Success

By Truman Twill

A California conference on Negro leadership heard the widely respected Negro who is associate White House press secretary say that young Negroes should be steered into blue-collar jobs.

Andrew T. Hatcher was thinking about a problem for young men of the Negro race — how to break into employment dominated by whites. His idea is that if Negroes became expert in the service trades, such as masonry, carpentering, electrical wiring etc., they would do better than by trying to break into medicine, the law, teaching and other white-collar fields. Demand would open the doors.

I think we should forget that Mr. Hatcher is a Negro talking about a Negro problem and take his advice for all young men of today, tomorrow and the day after.

I think we should ditch the idea it makes sense for everybody and his brother to go gunning for white-collar status. It appears to me the way to start is to get down to cases with the rising generation.

The best life to be lived in the United States in the years ahead will belong to skilled, conscientious artisans able to turn their talents into money and long-term security under terms that will be largely of their own determination.

The poorest life is likely to be that of people obsessed with the importance of staying out of artisanship at any price though not possessing the attitude and aptitude to be successful at so-called white-collar jobs.

These people will be the poor relations of a white-collar family in which they couldn't make the grade. They would have been happier doing something at which they could have turned their lives to useful account.

And what about people who go to high school and college? Wouldn't they be wasting their talent if they became carpenters instead of whiz-bang scientists, engineers, architects and business moguls? Not necessarily.

Education, as distinguished from vocational training, is for the purpose of teaching human beings how to live civilized lives. Eventually, our society will outgrow the notion that artisans have strong backs and weak minds.

The time is coming when artisans will be as well-educated as anyone else. The time already is here when people with nothing to offer but strong backs are out of the running.

But It Wasn't That Simple

Fidel Castro says he always has been a Communist.

Taking him at his word, many of us would like to write off the Cuban dictator as a lifelong agent of the Kremlin and to say that all whoever took Castro seriously were fools.

That would include many of us who would be doing the writing off. It wasn't that simple when Castro and his bearded revolutionaries came out of the hills to rout the corrupt and brutal regime of Fulgencio Batista.

Those who suspected him then of being a Communist had more than a suspicion that Batista was a terrorist and his overthrow was overdue. Castro was the instrument for correction of a grave fault in Cuba.

Herbert L. Matthews, New York Times correspondent who has studied Castro closely, insists that the Cuban revolutionist was a bona fide opponent of Batista terrorism when he came to power and that the United States forced him into the Kremlin's sphere of influence by barring him from good standing in its own sphere.

Mr. Matthews' head has been beaten in for his pains, and Castro's confession of lifelong devotion to Marxism will be the coup de grace. "New evidence may change the picture," Matthews wrote in a book on Castro published last September, "but on the evidence available and on my personal knowledge of Fidel Castro, I have always said and I still say that he was not and is not a Communist."

The twist that history has given to Castro in Cuba very well could be that he is now a tool of Communism because he has become so deeply involved with Communists in Cuba that he has lost his freedom of choice. Whether that's the way it has turned out, or whether Castro always has been an agent of Communism, he came to power because he was able to overthrow a regime in Cuba that had nothing in its favor except its claim of being anti-Communist.

In a showdown between Batista and Castro, Cubans and all others who wanted a better life for Cubans had to choose Castro. They couldn't choose Batista.

Vandals And Victims

There are some in the district who seriously advocate the return of the public whipping post for anyone convicted of the senseless and costly vandalism wreaked periodically upon homes and business property.

Fortunately there is no great epidemic, but the damage mounts steadily over the months. It would be difficult to determine the thousands of dollars such crimes cost. For example, the damage by vandals to a contractor's equipment on the Freeway project. And there are the broken windows, scratched autos or defaced buildings that are never reported.

There is little or no justification for any crime, but destruction of property or endangering of life by pure stupidity or malicious urge is especially offensive. It is fortunate for the heartless hoodlums who are caught — and they often are caught — that their punishment isn't meted out by their victims.

Threat With No Meaning

The United States is supposed to shudder at the Soviet Union's threat to retaliate with more nuclear blasts unless the Western Powers suspend all testing.

This includes such testing as now is going forward in this country — underground low-yield tests that do not contaminate the air. It also would cover such testing as might be undertaken by Great Britain and France.

But where is the threat as far as the Soviet Union is concerned?

It already has shown by its 31-blast series ending last Nov. 4 that it will test nuclear devices whenever it feels like it; that it will not be bound by any consideration.

Negotiations to ban nuclear testing began Oct. 31, 1958, when the United States and Great Britain concluded a series of tests. The Soviet Union ended a series on Nov. 4, 1958, having accepted the voluntary moratorium proposed by the United States and Britain.

It broke the moratorium without warning last September. Negotiations were stopped, in the light of this cynical rebuke to the spirit of negotiation by the Russian government.

Nothing could have made it more obvious that the Russian government has no real interest in a moratorium on nuclear testing. Its interest is only in carrying on negotiations, to lull other governments into a sense of security.

"In these circumstances," said the United States when arranging for resumption of negotiations, "the United States will continue to take such action as it deems necessary to safeguard its national security until a controlled test-ban agreement is achieved."

The Russian threat to resume testing if anyone else starts testing is empty. The Russians will resume testing when they feel like it. So will the United States. So, presumably, will Britain and France.

Still Not A Big Happy Family

When George Meany and Walter Reuther of AFL-CIO take potshots at each other in the newspapers, it's news. But what does it mean in unionism?

Some diehard opponents of unionism hope it means the two labor leaders are going to do a Kilkenny cat act and devour each other.

Other diehard opponents and critics hope it means the two men and their followers will lock horns and use up their strength in irreconcilable inner conflict.

But there is a longer view of the Meany-Reuther differences of opinion as well as of most differences of opinion in the American labor movement. Union leaders don't care for it, though many of them are acutely aware of the long view, too.

In the long view, the dream of a "big happy family" is no closer to realization now than it used to be. And this is a fortunate thing for unionists.

Unionism is essentially a political movement. Like politics it is the "art of the possible" — the practice of getting things done in behalf of a constituency.

And like all politics in the United States, unionism finds itself following the classic line of opposing factions — a two-party system. Among its members there are two points of view, even when there is no tolerance for organized opposition.

There are the "ins" and the "outs," the same as there are majorities and minorities in legislatures. There is the party in power and the party out of power, and it is the possibility the party out of power might pick up enough followers to become the party in power that keeps the dominant party on its toes.

There is also an endless sparring for position — and this could account for the potshotting between AFL-CIO President Meany and United Auto Workers President Reuther.

Certainly it could account for all the other potshotting, like that between AFL-CIO leaders and James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union. All of these men are in the politics of unionism. They are maneuvering for position. They never will be members of a big happy family, and they know it. There is no danger of totalitarianism in unionism in America.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ever since Paul Revere's ride won over British entry, Boston has been crazy over horses. Recent TV hidden camera exposure of Beantown horse parlor showed bookie joint had been operating in guise of key store undisturbed almost since "Clatter of hoofs in a village street".

Program was no special slam at Boston, but produced to give an example of situation existing in many big cities and plenty of small towns. It was a "shocker" (to paraphrase Longfellow), indicating a "shape in the moonlight, a key-shop in the dark" could be forerunner of an airwave crime crusade.

Cameras showed endless parade of bettors in and out of key store. If half the inhabitants of Boston had lost key rings there couldn't have been that many key buyers. Telecast showed numerous cops in with horse players. It wasn't hard for folks to imagine bettor whispering "I'm here for a key," getting answer "Straight, place or show?"

Bookies everywhere in United States are jittery over Boston telecast and probably thousands of windows are being watched for hidden cameras. "Search buildings across the street" (is current slogan, and any stranger coming into any key shop or "reasonable facsimile thereof" with a lunchbox is apt to get tossed out, even if there is just a cheese sandwich, not a camera, inside.

Bookies are so suspicious they may think sandwich has a concealed tape recorder.

It looks like an exciting year ahead if TV does its own crime programs. The whole underworld is apprehensive. It can't tell when it is getting auditions for television's most thrilling program.

NEBRASKA DENTIST does work on cows. But it will continue to be tough getting a cow to see a dentist twice a year.

It takes tact to get at cow's teeth. It naturally thinks the man is at the wrong end and seems to register "Kindly step to the rear" expression.

> Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn,
> The cows are with the dentists, their uppers badly worn.

New hit comedy "Sunday In New York" never faced fear it might have to close Monday.

Gotham Police captain was fined $400 for taking three hours for restaurant dinner while on duty. Maybe he ordered unboned shad or a chop on which he had trouble finding meat.

Cornell professor, Hans A. Bethe, won not only medal but $50,000 from Atomic Energy Board for best contribution to nuclear physics in 1961. This should rid him of any concern over whether he can afford a fall-out shelter.

Ima Dodo thinks Broadway play "Daughter of Silence" is about a girl whose parents talk so much she can't get a word in edgeways.

Over billion dollars was bet on races in New York this season. This supports claim that people in big cities are apt to be mentally unsound.

An Overnight Stop In Siberia

By Rowland Evans Jr.

OMSK, Siberia

Our twin-engine Tupolev jet, loaded with Muscovites, just sat there on the snowy runway and it quickly became apparent that we weren't going to make Irkutsk on this night. We had come 1,500 miles in a little over three hours to the half-way point. Another 1,500 miles due east over the frozen Siberian forests lay ahead.

Bad weather in Irkutsk, and we were to spend the night in this closed city of Omsk, off-bounds to Western tourists. It was like flying to Seattle and coming down in Cheyenne for an un-scheduled overnight stopover, waiting for the weather to clear in Seattle.

THE PASSENGERS on the Aeroflot jet behaved remarkably like the American equivalent: first chagrin, then outrage, then humor.

An Intourist official who spoke a few words of English, and who was working hard to master the language, finally boarded the plane and used six carefully-chosen words to tell me the story:

"Weather Irkutsk. Spend night here, please."

The mood on the plane was shifting from chagrin to outrage. Babies were bundled into the arms of their mothers and the passengers reached for their sacks of fruit and started down the ramp onto the frigid snow-covered apron. Everybody had a sack of fruit. In Irkutsk fruit is a precious commodity and hard to come by.

For the sole American aboard, the prospect of being stranded at Omsk with a planeload of Russians was quite exciting. Russians at heart are a friendly lot, full of laughs and good humor.

But in Moscow and other Russian cities in the west, where the tourist has become a fixture as statues of Lenin, an American has few opportunities to see this side of them. Shyness, reserve or perhaps suspicion of being seen in Western company often drop a curtain between the traveler and the people.

"It is understood here that one of the American proposals was to create an 'international administration' over all access routes to West Berlin — by air as well as land and water. This idea was advanced by Mr. Kennedy in his interview with Izvestia, although United States and the Allies, themselves, are not agreed on the idea. It was the bringing of such proposals out into the open at this stage that disturbed De Gaulle. He feels that the United States is going too far and moving too fast in its efforts to come to terms with the Soviet Union."

THE QUESTION naturally arises as to what part, if any, the secretary of state himself played in the handling of the President's interview with the editor of Izvestia. It would be surprising to find that a diplomat of experience would approve of the revelation of delicate matters under discussion with allies without consulting them in advance as to the wisdom of such disclosure.

Just how seriously the French regard the mistake is indicated in the concluding paragraph of the Paris Dispatch quoted in part above:

"As French officials see it: if there was a chance after the Kennedy - Adenauer talks that De Gaulle finally would agree to participate in the preparations for a conference with Russia, that chance almost disappeared after the Kennedy interview with Nikita Khrushchev's son-in-law."

The tendency to go it alone in a matter of Allied strategy probably will be called in quarters here as necessary in order to bring about, through world opinion, the harmony that is not achievable through diplomatic channels. But it is risky business.

Already Walter Ulbricht, the East German leader, has denounced the Kennedy proposal—made publicly for the first time in the Izvestia interview — for an international administration of access routes to West Berlin from West Germany.

This is one tactic that Moscow employes to knock down the President's proposals with the idea of getting more and more concessions before the negotiations actually begin. President De Gaulle feels that the Russians should come to the West with proposals for negotiation and that the West should not take the initiative in offering bargaining proposals to Khrushchev.

WITHIN ANOTHER WEEK the foreign ministers of the Western Allies are due to meet in Paris. So far as is known, they have not as yet come to any agreement on the main proposals to be made to Russia and that is why it is wholly unprecedented for public statements to be issued that tend to commit the allies to a position which they themselves have not all accepted.

Dissension among Allies is not surprising, but to express differences publicly in advance of a negotiation makes it difficult for any foreign minister or secretary of state to perform effectively the duties of his office.

The State Department here is frequently under fire, and some of the White House aides are sometimes impatient with its slow - moving tendencies, but in the long run it's better to listen to your doctor or lawyer, as they know from experience with other cases the pitfalls arising from indifference to competent advisors.

Blue For Success

By Truman Twill

A California conference on Negro leadership heard the widely respected Negro who is associate White House press secretary say that young Negroes should be steered into blue-collar jobs.

Andrew T. Hatcher was thinking about a problem for young men of the Negro race — how to break into employment dominated by whites. His idea is that if Negroes became expert in the service trades, such as masonry, carpentering, electrical wiring etc., they would do better than by trying to break into medicine, the law, teaching and other white-collar fields. Demand would open the doors.

I think we should forget that Mr. Hatcher is a Negro talking about a Negro problem and take his advice for all young men of today, tomorrow and the day after.

I think we should ditch the idea it makes sense for everybody and his brother to go gunning for white-collar status. It appears to me the way to start is to get down to cases with the rising generation.

The best life to be lived in the United States in the years ahead will belong to skilled, conscientious artisans able to turn their talents into money and long-term security under terms that will be largely of their own determination.

The poorest life is likely to be that of people obsessed with the importance of staying out of artisanship at any price though not possessing the attitude and aptitude to be successful at so-called white-collar jobs.

These people will be the poor relations of a white-collar family in which they couldn't make the grade. They would have been happier doing something at which they could have turned their lives to useful account.

And what about education?

What about people who go to high school and college? Wouldn't they be wasting their talent if they became carpenters instead of whiz-bang scientists, engineers, architects and business moguls? Not necessarily.

Education, as distinguished from vocational training, is for the purpose of teaching human beings how to live civilized lives. Eventually, our society will outgrow the notion that artisans have strong backs and weak minds.

The time is coming when artisans will be as well-educated as anyone else. The time already is here when people with nothing to offer but strong backs are out of the running.

Tariffs

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Kennedy emphasized that he was not advocating that the United States join the Common Market with France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Neither, Kennedy said, does he propose "that in setting new policies on imports we do away altogether with our traditional safeguards and institutions." He said tariffs can be used to cushion the effects on competitive U.S. industries instead of solely to shut out competition from abroad.

Moreover, he said, the federal government can help affected companies, workers and communities. He told the industrialists he would have more to say on that subject when he addresses the AFL-CIO in Miami Beach, Fla., Thursday.

Kennedy tipped off organized labor that he also would stress in his AFL-CIO speech "its responsibility for price stability" to enable the United States to compete on world markets.

The President acknowledged that his new policy would increase imports but said exports would mount even more. "And we need those imports if other nations are to have the money to buy our exports and the incentive to lower their tariff barriers," he said.

Kennedy made clear that he would press for his administration's proposals to stimulate investment in new equipment by giving tax credits and to close tax loopholes which encourage businessmen to send capital abroad.

At the same time, he said his administration has no thought of "imposing exchange controls, devaluing the dollar, raising trade barriers or choking off our economic recovery."

Kennedy set forth his ideas on global economic fitness after encouraging his countrymen to pay more attention to their own physical fitness.

That was his theme in a speech Tuesday night at the annual banquet of the National Football Foundation. Eight famed players and two distinguished coaches of the past were inducted into the Hall of Fame, and Kennedy found himself rising from the obscurity of Harvard's junior varsity—as he recalled his playing days—to honorary membership in the circle of grid greats.

Kennedy dropped in on a gathering of relatives and friends in a Park Avenue apartment for an hour or so after the football banquet. The hostess was Mrs. John Fell, widow of an industrialist, who visited the Kennedys at Newport, R.I., last summer.

Two of the President's sisters, Eunice Shriver and Pat Lawford, were there with their husbands. Peter Lawford is the film and television actor. Sargent Shriver heads the Peace Corps. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York and Christopher Dunphy, a retired businessman who plays golf with Kennedy at Palm Beach.

West Virginia Finance Chief Sets Budget

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Board of Public Works will be handed a $129,209,959 operating budget for state spending agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

That is the final figure arrived at by Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore after matching anticipated income with budget requests submitted by the various agencies, departments and institutions.

Gore's proposal is considerably under a total budget of $147,819,106 for the current fiscal year.

Gore estimated general revenue income from current tax sorces would bring in $129,303,000 during fiscal 1963. That's $93,990 more than budgeted expenditures.

Education was one of the area's taking a reduction in the budget. Gore recommended $54,970,880 in state aid to schools, compared with the current $58,120,585.

West Virginia University was recommended for $9,892,393 — up about $4,000 from present budget. Marshall University took a cut of about $2,000 to $2,606,688.

The Department of Welfare would get $10.9 million, down about $8 million from current appropriations. The document included no provisions for continuing the Medical Aid for the Aged and the Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed Parents programs.

Following is a breakdown of Gore's operating budget proposal, on a functional basis, with the increase or decrease from the current year in parenthesis:

General government, $8,406,719 (up $705,522); educational, $82,440,391 (down $2,606,563); charities and correction, $2,979,953 (up $293,467); health and welfare, $23,285,602 (down $7,540,403).

The smallest piece of territory under the U. S. flag is Kingman Reef, about 1,000 miles south of Hawaii. It is 150 feet long and 120 feet wide at high tide.

Canton Man, 29, To Be Arraigned In Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP)—An unemployed Canton steelworker was to be arraigned here today on federal bank robbery charges for a $3,984 bank holdup near Massillon.

Donald Eugene Collier, 29, of Canton surrendered to police and FBI agents in an Akron bar Tuesday night after federal charges were filed against him in connection with the holdup of the Perry Heights branch of the Massillon State Bank earlier Tuesday.

Authorities already had found all but about $1,000 of the loot in a garage at the home of Collier's parents in Perry Twp., Stark County.

Collier is married and the father of two. Stark County sheriff's deputies said he was laid off in October from his job at a steel mill and is separated from his wife.

Victor E. Zuercher, branch manager, and one employe were alone in the bank when the holdup man entered Tuesday. The neatly dressed holdup man threatened the two with a short-barreled revolver and emptied the drawers of two tellers' cages, putting the money into a shopping bag.

It was the second holdup at the branch in 15 days. A gunman escaped with $5,058 in a Nov. 20 holdup.

Students' New Fad Jamming Into Closet

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Remember the college craze of crowding into a telephone booth?

Students at Allegheny College have come up with a new fad — jamming into a broom closet.

Some 58 of them jammed into a closet at Baldwin Hall the other day and added a St. Bernard dog for good measure.

Want to break that record? Just find a closet nine feet long, six feet wide and eight feet high, 58 people — and two St. Bernards.

The Eastern Hotel in Boston was the United States' first steam-heated building in 1843.

West Virginia Finance Chief Sets Budget

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Board of Public Works will be handed a $129,209,959 operating budget for state spending agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

That is the final figure arrived at by Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore after matching anticipated income with budget requests submitted by the various agencies, departments and institutions.

Gore's proposal is considerably under a total budget of $147,819,106 for the current fiscal year.

Gore estimated general revenue income from current tax sorces would bring in $129,303,000 during fiscal 1963. That's $93,990 more than budgeted expenditures.

Education was one of the area's taking a reduction in the budget. Gore recommended $54,970,880 in state aid to schools, compared with the current $58,120,585.

West Virginia University was recommended for $9,892,393 — up about $4,000 from present budget. Marshall University took a cut of about $2,000 to $2,606,688.

The Department of Welfare would get $10.9 million, down about $8 million from current appropriations. The document included no provisions for continuing the Medical Aid for the Aged and the Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed Parents programs.

Following is a breakdown of Gore's operating budget proposal, on a functional basis, with the increase or decrease from the current year in parenthesis:

General government, $8,406,719 (up $705,522); educational, $82,440,391 (down $2,606,563); charities and correction, $2,979,953 (up $293,467); health and welfare, $23,285,602 (down $7,540,403).

The smallest piece of territory under the U. S. flag is Kingman Reef, about 1,000 miles south of Hawaii. It is 150 feet long and 120 feet wide at high tide.

Canton Man, 29, To Be Arraigned In Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP)—An unemployed Canton steelworker was to be arraigned here today on federal bank robbery charges for a $3,984 bank holdup near Massillon.

Donald Eugene Collier, 29, of Canton surrendered to police and FBI agents in an Akron bar Tuesday night after federal charges were filed against him in connection with the holdup of the Perry Heights branch of the Massillon State Bank earlier Tuesday.

Authorities already had found all but about $1,000 of the loot in a garage at the home of Collier's parents in Perry Twp., Stark County.

Collier is married and the father of two. Stark County sheriff's deputies said he was laid off in October from his job at a steel mill and is separated from his wife.

Victor E. Zuercher, branch manager, and one employe were alone in the bank when the holdup man entered Tuesday. The neatly dressed holdup man threatened the two with a short-barreled revolver and emptied the drawers of two tellers' cages, putting the money into a shopping bag.

It was the second holdup at the branch in 15 days. A gunman escaped with $5,058 in a Nov. 20 holdup.

Students' New Fad Jamming Into Closet

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Remember the college craze of crowding into a telephone booth?

Students at Allegheny College have come up with a new fad — jamming into a broom closet.

Some 58 of them jammed into a closet at Baldwin Hall the other day and added a St. Bernard dog for good measure.

Want to break that record? Just find a closet nine feet long, six feet wide and eight feet high, 58 people — and two St. Bernards.

The Eastern Hotel in Boston was the United States' first steam-heated building in 1843.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, officiated for the single-ring ceremony before an altar background of white pompons, palms, ferns and seven - branch candelabra. Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music. Miss Teresa Lowers, cousin of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love" and "Today, O Lord."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a ballerina-length gown of peau de soie fashioned with a re-embroidered lace bodice, which was highlighted with a round neckline and tiny buttons down the front and on the long sleeves.

Her veil of silk illusion was shoulder-length. She carried a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom. It was topped with an arrangement of white orchids and roses tied with satin streamers. She observed all the traditions.

Miss Barbara Radeschi, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her sheath of green peau de soie was designed with a round neckline, cap sleeves and overskirt, fastened in the front with a bow, and draped in the back. She wore a headpiece of feathers, highlighted with a matching theater veil, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and rust color mums and pompons.

Robert McKinney served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Thomas and Gary McKinney, also brothers.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath of green lace, fashioned with three - quarter - length sleeves, and neutral beige and gold accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and gold sheath of matte jersey with white accessories. Corsages of talisman roses complemented their attire.

MRS. K. E. McKINNEY
Her Nuptials Held Wednesday.

A reception for 60 followed at the home of the bride's parents. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Arrangements of white pompons and lily-of-the-valley along with lighted tapers completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Bernard Gallagher, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Jackie Clutter and Mrs. Carl Miller, aunts of the bride.

Guests were from Midland and Pittsburgh.

For her honeymoon to Virginia and Washington, the bride wore a three-piece wool knit suit in chocolate brown with matching accessories, beige hat and gloves and her bridal orchids.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and was employed as secretary for Commercial Decal, Inc. Her husband is a furniture dealer.

The newlyweds will reside on Rock Camp Rd., until the completion of their new home in the spring.

U.S. Manned Space Flight Subject Of Science At Work

By The Associated Press

The push to orbit a U.S. astronaut before the end of the year, some curious facts about space-going chimpanzees, and saving calories in weightlessness are subjects for science at work:

U.S. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., at 40 the oldest of the seven American space candidates. may be the first to orbit the earth.

He is now lodged in the astronaut ready room at Cape Canaveral, Fla., waiting for his chance which may come before New Year's Day.

Glenn's quarters in Hangar S on the sprawling missile base are only a few steps away from the area where space-going chimpanzees Enos and Ham were prepared for their space flights. Newer, more complete astronaut quarters are being planned for the cape.

Enos and Brethren

Chimpanzees, like Enos and Ham, are mightier than men in many ways.

The men who handle the space chimpanzees say that these apes are 4½ times as strong as men of similar weight. Chimpanzees have been found which stand up to 5½ feet tall, and have an arm spread of 6 feet.

Although the average life span of chimpanzees is usually in the thirties, some have been known to live 45 years. Most of the space chimpanzees are young—5 to 6 years old, and small—about 40 pounds.

An astronaut—gliding in weightlessness through space—will probably need no more than some 2,400 calories a day in meals, a scientist suggests.

At work, the space pilot's efforts that on earth would cost some 216 calories per hour working against gravity, would cost only 144 calories an hour in weightlessness.

Under normal normal gravity on earth, a space pilot resting, but awake, would use 94 calories an hour, but would use only 85 calories an hour resting and awake without gravity to contend with.

Sleeping, on earth or in space, the cost in calories is about the same—some 65 calories an hour, said Dr. Carsbie C. Adams, president of the National Research and Development Corp.

'Twist' Legal Again In Toned-Down Form

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — "The Twist," the new dance craze, is legal again at Chardon High School—but in a toned-down form.

School Superintendent Ira A. Canfield, who banned the dance four weeks ago because it became "disgusting," lifted the ban Tuesday after he received a petition from four students who agreed to certain regulations. The students said there is nothing wrong with the dance if it is properly done. The Student Council has agreed the music at future school dances would be stopped if solo twisting returns.

Fallout Shelter Film Shown For CD Group

A film on "Fallout Shelters" was shown by Fred Andretta of West Point at the meeting of the St. Clair Township Civilian Defense unit Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

The group discussed radiation and fallout with Herman Heiney, director, in charge.

The fire team set practice for 3 p. m. Saturday at the fire station.

Fifteen were present.

The next meeting will be in January.

U.S. Manned Space Flight Subject Of Science At Work

By The Associated Press

The push to orbit a U.S. astronaut before the end of the year, some curious facts about space-going chimpanzees, and saving calories in weightlessness are subjects for science at work:

U.S. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., at 40 the oldest of the seven American space candidates. may be the first to orbit the earth.

He is now lodged in the astronaut ready room at Cape Canaveral, Fla., waiting for his chance which may come before New Year's Day.

Glenn's quarters in Hangar S on the sprawling missile base are only a few steps away from the area where space-going chimpanzees Enos and Ham were prepared for their space flights. Newer, more complete astronaut quarters are being planned for the cape.

Enos and Brethren

Chimpanzees, like Enos and Ham, are mightier than men in many ways.

The men who handle the space chimpanzees say that these apes are 4½ times as strong as men of similar weight. Chimpanzees have been found which stand up to 5½ feet tall, and have an arm spread of 6 feet.

Although the average life span of chimpanzees is usually in the thirties, some have been known to live 45 years. Most of the space chimpanzees are young—5 to 6 years old, and small—about 40 pounds.

An astronaut—gliding in weightlessness through space—will probably need no more than some 2,400 calories a day in meals, a scientist suggests.

At work, the space pilot's efforts that on earth would cost some 216 calories per hour working against gravity, would cost only 144 calories an hour in weightlessness.

Under normal normal gravity on earth, a space pilot resting, but awake, would use 94 calories an hour, but would use only 85 calories an hour resting and awake without gravity to contend with.

Sleeping, on earth or in space, the cost in calories is about the same—some 65 calories an hour, said Dr. Carsbie C. Adams, president of the National Research and Development Corp.

'Twist' Legal Again In Toned-Down Form

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — "The Twist," the new dance craze, is legal again at Chardon High School—but in a toned-down form.

School Superintendent Ira A. Canfield, who banned the dance four weeks ago because it became "disgusting," lifted the ban Tuesday after he received a petition from four students who agreed to certain regulations. The students said there is nothing wrong with the dance if it is properly done. The Student Council has agreed the music at future school dances would be stopped if solo twisting returns.

Fallout Shelter Film Shown For CD Group

A film on "Fallout Shelters" was shown by Fred Andretta of West Point at the meeting of the St. Clair Township Civilian Defense unit Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

The group discussed radiation and fallout with Herman Heiney, director, in charge.

The fire team set practice for 3 p. m. Saturday at the fire station.

Fifteen were present.

The next meeting will be in January.

At Wellsville Council

Traffic, Water Problems Solved

Problems of water drainage and traffic safety in connection with two Wellsville schools were ironed out at a meeting of City Council Tuesday night.

Earl Bake, Board of Education president, and Russell Dysert, a board member, were present and an agreement was reached on the solution to the problems.

The first concerned the drainage from MacDonald School into Clover Alley. Council had received complaints previously on damage to the alley by water.

LAST NIGHT, a letter was received from William C. Palmer, 822 Broadway, who said the heavy flow of water caused damage to his garage located on Clover Alley

Councilman William Stroble, chairman of the street and light committee, said about three feet of the concrete floor of the garage was undermined by the heavy flow. He said he feels the city is responsible and not the Board of Education. The letter was later referred to the claims committee.

Councilman Robert Taggart said the architect who prepared the plans for MacDonald School didn't do a good job or the water problem would not exist.

Bake explained from the audience that the board had been informed of the problem and is having a half-tile open drain installed along side the school to divert the water to 9th St. He said when the school was constructed, the architect and board were instructed to divert the water to the nearest alley or street. This was also done for Daw Junior High, he said.

DYSERT said he feels that as the instructions came from the city it was not the fault of the architect and any damage resulting is the responsibility of the city.

Later Stroble reviewed complaints received of students crossing Oak Alley from the high school to the gymnasium causing a traffic hazard. The alley separates the two buildings.

He then explained he had conferred with board members on possible corrective measures as the doors from the gym open directly onto the alley.

Bake presented a proposal whereby a safety barrier would be erected outside the gym doors to keep the students from darting directly into the alley and a renovation of the entrance on the other side of the alley for the high school. He said the work could be done if an easement for a total of four feet—a foot on one side and three on the high school side — could be obtained from the city. This would make the alley 16 feet wide at this one section.

HE DISPLAYED plans prepared several years ago which the state had approved for construction in a state aid program. He said the Council at that time gave first reading to the easement legislation but then halted action.

New legislation was ordered granting the easement. Bake said the project probably would be done next year if funds are available.

Bake also asked that the alley at the rear of the high school be graded. He said if the city grader could be used to clear a small section of board property, it could be converted to a parking lot for five cars. This would aid in a parking problem in the alley, he said. Council directed the scraping be done.

In other business, Council gave second reading to two resolutions authorizing the erection of stop signs. One creates a four - way stop intersection at Chester Ave. and 19th St. and the other is for stop signs on Buckeye Ave. at the intersection with Aten Ave. First reading was given legislation establishing stop signs on Commerce St. at 20th St.

A RESOLUTION received from the county auditor's office, announcing the new tax rates and authorizing collection, was tabled until the next meeting as not enough members were present to adopt it under emergency measures, as required. Councilmen Donald Miller and Clarence Cartwright were absent.

Council also tabled a resolution authorizing Treasurer Charles Stewart to sell four Series G Savings Bonds which have matured in the cemetery endowment fund and use the interest to purchase a new $500 bond. Both measures will be presented at the next meeting Dec. 19.

Stroble said he had been informed the Pennsylvania Railroad plans to begin repairing the 18th St. crossing by the end of the week. Council had requested that all crossings in town be repaired.

ON A MOTION by Councilman George Mackall, property committee chairman, Council authorized Safety-Service Director William Robinson to receive bids for a 1958 police cruiser. The city was offered $102 on a trade-in for a new cruiser and Council rejected the offer.

Stroble urged that the ordinance committee study present legislation concerning cutting of weeds on empty lots in town and the repair of city streets which have been opened for sewer, water or gas lines. He asked that more "teeth" be put into the present law.

He then remarked that a hole has been open on Chester Ave. for five weeks. He said two weeks should be enough time to complete any work. Council then directed Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, to write Joseph Heiney, the plumber involved, directing him to have the excavation filled within 10 days or the city will do the work and bill him.

THE ORDINANCE committee was then requested to study the two bills for future recommendation.

A group of residents from near the H. K. Porter Co. Pleasant Valley mine off Route 45 was present in the audience. At the last meeting, they had complained of dust conditions caused by equipment at the mine. Council sent a letter to the firm, asking a representative be present at the meeting to discuss the situation.

No one appeared in behalf of H. K. Porter. Council directed another letter be sent the firm, requesting a meeting be set. The residents were told they would be informed as to when the representative would be present.

Council was informed that work on painting and repairing the water standpipe has been postponed as it is too late in the season.

Mayor William J. Shoub's report for November showed $837.95 collected in fines and fees.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, offered the opening prayer.

ASC Enrolls 420 Wheat Producers

LISBON — Only 420 of 2,400 wheat producers in Columbiana County have filed intentions to divert all or part of their wheat acreage to conservation uses, according to Earl Lora, office manager of the county Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee. The last day for filing was Friday.

The total of acreage diverted is 2,140 and advance payments amounting to $29,625 will be made in the near future, with final payments to be made before the wheat harvest to all who comply.

The County ASC office will soon have completed annual payments for 181 farmers holding soil bank contracts and also to 367 who entered the feed grain program for 1961. Some 5,000 bushels of corn was furnished to those farmers choosing to take payment in kind, Lora said.

Kenneth Deel, is expected to seek court permission to assume custody of his son, Kenneth Jr.

At Wellsville Council

Traffic, Water Problems Solved

Problems of water drainage and traffic safety in connection with two Wellsville schools were ironed out at a meeting of City Council Tuesday night.

Earl Bake, Board of Education president, and Russell Dysert, a board member, were present and an agreement was reached on the solution to the problems.

The first concerned the drainage from MacDonald School into Clover Alley. Council had received complaints previously on damage to the alley by water.

LAST NIGHT, a letter was received from William C. Palmer, 822 Broadway, who said the heavy flow of water caused damage to his garage located on Clover Alley

Councilman William Stroble, chairman of the street and light committee, said about three feet of the concrete floor of the garage was undermined by the heavy flow. He said he feels the city is responsible and not the Board of Education. The letter was later referred to the claims committee.

Councilman Robert Taggart said the architect who prepared the plans for MacDonald School didn't do a good job or the water problem would not exist.

Bake explained from the audience that the board had been informed of the problem and is having a half-tile open drain installed along side the school to divert the water to 9th St. He said when the school was constructed, the architect and board were instructed to divert the water to the nearest alley or street. This was also done for Daw Junior High, he said.

DYSERT said he feels that as the instructions came from the city it was not the fault of the architect and any damage resulting is the responsibility of the city.

Later Stroble reviewed complaints received of students crossing Oak Alley from the high school to the gymnasium causing a traffic hazard. The alley separates the two buildings.

He then explained he had conferred with board members on possible corrective measures as the doors from the gym open directly onto the alley.

Bake presented a proposal whereby a safety barrier would be erected outside the gym doors to keep the students from darting directly into the alley and a renovation of the entrance on the other side of the alley for the high school. He said the work could be done if an easement for a total of four feet—a foot on one side and three on the high school side — could be obtained from the city. This would make the alley 16 feet wide at this one section.

HE DISPLAYED plans prepared several years ago which the state had approved for construction in a state aid program. He said the Council at that time gave first reading to the easement legislation but then halted action.

New legislation was ordered granting the easement. Bake said the project probably would be done next year if funds are available.

Bake also asked that the alley at the rear of the high school be graded. He said if the city grader could be used to clear a small section of board property, it could be converted to a parking lot for five cars. This would aid in a parking problem in the alley, he said. Council directed the scraping be done.

In other business, Council gave second reading to two resolutions authorizing the erection of stop signs. One creates a four - way stop intersection at Chester Ave. and 19th St. and the other is for stop signs on Buckeye Ave. at the intersection with Aten Ave. First reading was given legislation establishing stop signs on Commerce St. at 20th St.

A RESOLUTION received from the county auditor's office, announcing the new tax rates and authorizing collection, was tabled until the next meeting as not enough members were present to adopt it under emergency measures, as required. Councilmen Donald Miller and Clarence Cartwright were absent.

Council also tabled a resolution authorizing Treasurer Charles Stewart to sell four Series G Savings Bonds which have matured in the cemetery endowment fund and use the interest to purchase a new $500 bond. Both measures will be presented at the next meeting Dec. 19.

Stroble said he had been informed the Pennsylvania Railroad plans to begin repairing the 18th St. crossing by the end of the week. Council had requested that all crossings in town be repaired.

ON A MOTION by Councilman George Mackall, property committee chairman, Council authorized Safety-Service Director William Robinson to receive bids for a 1958 police cruiser. The city was offered $102 on a trade-in for a new cruiser and Council rejected the offer.

Stroble urged that the ordinance committee study present legislation concerning cutting of weeds on empty lots in town and the repair of city streets which have been opened for sewer, water or gas lines. He asked that more "teeth" be put into the present law.

He then remarked that a hole has been open on Chester Ave. for five weeks. He said two weeks should be enough time to complete any work. Council then directed Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, to write Joseph Heiney, the plumber involved, directing him to have the excavation filled within 10 days or the city will do the work and bill him.

THE ORDINANCE committee was then requested to study the two bills for future recommendation.

A group of residents from near the H. K. Porter Co. Pleasant Valley mine off Route 45 was present in the audience. At the last meeting, they had complained of dust conditions caused by equipment at the mine. Council sent a letter to the firm, asking a representative be present at the meeting to discuss the situation.

No one appeared in behalf of H. K. Porter. Council directed another letter be sent the firm, requesting a meeting be set. The residents were told they would be informed as to when the representative would be present.

Council was informed that work on painting and repairing the water standpipe has been postponed as it is too late in the season.

Mayor William J. Shoub's report for November showed $837.95 collected in fines and fees.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, offered the opening prayer.

ASC Enrolls 420 Wheat Producers

LISBON — Only 420 of 2,400 wheat producers in Columbiana County have filed intentions to divert all or part of their wheat acreage to conservation uses, according to Earl Lora, office manager of the county Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee. The last day for filing was Friday.

The total of acreage diverted is 2,140 and advance payments amounting to $29,625 will be made in the near future, with final payments to be made before the wheat harvest to all who comply.

The County ASC office will soon have completed annual payments for 181 farmers holding soil bank contracts and also to 367 who entered the feed grain program for 1961. Some 5,000 bushels of corn was furnished to those farmers choosing to take payment in kind, Lora said.

Ohio Father On Way For Reunion With Son

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A Cincinnati father was en route here today for reunion with his 3-year-old son who was found wandering alone in downtown Jacksonville a week ago.

Kenneth Deel, is expected to seek court permission to assume custody of his son, Kenneth Jr.

Deel contacted authorities after seeing the boy's picture in a Cincinnati newspaper. He said his wife had custody of the child since their separation several months ago. Her whereabouts and how the child got to Jacksonville remained a mystery.

Publisher Loses U.S. Court Suit On Controversial Novel

CLEVELAND (AP) — A New York publisher has lost his federal court suit to prevent enforcement agencies in Cleveland and Akron from interfering with the sale of the book "Tropic of Cancer."

The publisher, Grove Press, Inc. and the author of the novel, Henry Miller, had asked for a temporary injunction and for damages totaling $4.8 million from eight law enforcement officers.

Richard Siegel of Cleveland, attorney for the publisher and author, said he would confer today with U.S. District court Judge James C. Connell on the claim for damages and on other parts of the suit remaining after Judge Connell's ruling Tuesday.

The judge's ruling denied a request for a restraining order against the authorities, including prosecutors John T. Corrigan of Cuyahoga County and John F. Ballard of Summit County.

In his opinion the judge was sharply critical of the plaintiffs for bringing the action in federal court.

"It is preposterous to ask a federal court to enjoin public officers from doing their duty," Judge Connell declared.

He said the plaintiffs had produced no clear and convincing evidence that the defendants had confiscated any copies of the book or caused it to be removed from sale. Therefore, he said, there was nothing in the conduct of the defendants to restrain.

He said the police "were doing the book sellers a favor by telling them 'Tropic of Cancer' may be obscene. A book seller would be glad to know it may be obscene. The police officers have a duty to prevent crime, also. Very few crimes are susceptible of commission without knowledge. This, however, is one such area."

Woman Free On Bond Faces Mental Tests

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pauline Van Dam, free on bond pending trial on charges stemming from an Ohio - Kentucky joyride, was taken to Rollman State Hospital Tuesday night for mental tests.

Mrs. Van Dam, 31, is charged with transporting a stolen car and a gun between states.

Special Precautions Slated For Kennedy On Latin Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's journey to Latin America undoubtedly will call for special precautions for his safety.

His first stop on Dec. 16 will be Caracas, Venezuela. That was the site 2½ years ago of riots in which then Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon were stoned and spat upon in one of the most hostile demonstrations ever made against an American official of such high stature.

This will be in the mind of the U.S. Secret Service, whose duty it is to protect the President. This fact is underscored by the stoning Monday night of cars bringing six U.S. senators into Caracas from the airport. Stones flew when the cavalcade stalled in traffic before a high school and students cut loose. There have been a number of student demonstrations over the past few weeks, following Venezuela's cutting off diplomatic ties with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The visiting senators passed off the attack on them as something from a few trouble makers. U.S. Embassy officials said they were confident that Venezuela would tighten the protection for President Kennedy.

U.S. security officers were hesitant to say whether extra steps would be taken to safeguard Kennedy during his 24-hour stay in the Venezuelan capital. An advance force of Secret Service agents will cover the ground there. Until they report back, officials here cannot determine just what precautions will be taken for the Kennedys.

A broken main left 15 homes off the Hammond Park Rd., Wellsville, without water srevice for about 15 hours Tuesday.

Safety - Service Director William S. Robinson said the loss of pressure was discovered about 6 a. m. yesterday but the break was not found until 7:30 p. m. The service was restored last night about 10:30.

Robinson said the water crew searched for the break all day but it was not discovered until the water came to the surface. It was located on Hammond Park Rd. at the rear of the home of Richard Keay.

The 6-inch main had been installed about three years ago as part of an extended service program. The break was located on a shoulder in the ground where clay and shale deposits came together. Apparently the break was caused by a settling of the ground, Robinson said. It was about four feet underground.

The pipe sheared completely. Robinson thanked the residents for their co-operation and patience while the work was being done. "Their attitude was gratifying," he said.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: The Kingdom of Polydora is in an uproar. A great hole has suddenly appeared in the Public Square near the King's palace. Even the King's Ministers cannot decide what has happened.

CHAPTER THREE

While the ministers were busy squabbling about what had happened and what was to be done about it, King Ferdinand was taking a walk.

All alone in the Public Square, he walked 'round and 'round the big hole. He took a small magnifying glass from his key chain and from time to time he got down on his hands and knees to study the ground.

Several times he jumped into the hole and measured parts of it with a tape measure he secretly wore as a belt for his trousers.

When he had seen all there was to be seen, the King stood for a long while clucking his tongue and shaking his head.

He was trying to imagine how the detectives in his favorite detective stories would handle such a situation. Presently he remembered that one such detective always advised his assistants to get away and take a long view of a problem.

"That's what I must do!" exclaimed the King. "I will get as far away as I possibly can; then I will take a really good look at this extraordinary problem."

HE HITCHED his ermine robes over his arm and ran into the palace and up the broad stairs. Even when he had reached the fifth floor he did not stop. He opened a secret door into a secret closet and climbed a circular staircase that led up, up, into the highest tower of the palace.

When the stairs ended, the King stood in a small room at the very top of the Kingdom.

"This should be far enough away," he thought with satisfaction. He ran to a window and poked his head out and peered below. For a moment all he could see were spots before his eyes.

Then he realized they weren't really spots, they were buildings —so far below him they looked like little black specks. In the middle of the black specks was a blank space which was the Public Square and in the middle of this was the Public Garden and in the middle of this was the great mysterious hole.

The King leaned further and further out of the window staring at the black shape. He could not believe what he saw. He took off his spectacles and looked. Then he held his spectacles upside down and looked.

IT WAS TRUE! The black shape was a footprint! Clear as could be the King could see the outline of a shoe — a left shoe with a broad flat heel — a shoe so large that only a giant as tall as the sky could have worn it!

Where the heel had dug into the earth there were strange lines and curlicues. The King dashed to a corner cupboard and drew out a telescope he kept there to gaze at the stars. He brought the telescope to the window and, shaking with excitement, stared down at the footprint.

Now the crumpled lines took shape. "I" read the King. "P...S... W..." Slowly a word formed as the King traced out the letters with his finger on the window sill.

Suddenly he dropped the telescope and went spinning down the 300 steps of the spiral stair case and the five flights of stairs below and burst into the Great Throne Room.

"Gentlemen!" he cried to his ministers. "We have been invaded by an Ipswitch!"

(Tomorrow: Trailing the Ipswitch)

Parochial Group Hears Fireman

Robert Lloyd, assistant fire chief, spoke on the prevention of fire during the holidays when the Home and School Association of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School of Wellsville met Monday night in the auditorium.

A choral group of the school, directed by Fr. Gerald X. Curran, presented selections. The attendance banner was won by the fourth and fifth grades taught by Miss Theresa Soldano. Reports were read by Mrs. Connie Weeda, secretary, and Mrs. Rose Hunter, treasurer. The prize box was won by Mrs. Betty Cataldo and Mrs. Martha McCune.

A committee for the first Friday breakfast was appointed as follows: Mrs. Emmajean Guiliani, Mrs. Eileen DeSarro and Mrs. Weeda. Lunch was served by Mrs. Mary Ferance, Mrs. Esther Kemeny, Mrs. Anna Price and Mrs. Louise Checkler. Members are to contact Mrs. Sadie Surace by Friday to make reservations for the Christmas dinner Dec. 11 at Piatt's Tea Room.

Rotary Speaker Discusses Experiences In Alaska Visit

Alaska is a mecca for the skilled craftsman, with great opportunity for anyone prepared to work at a specialty, Dr. C. M. Mayberry told fellow members of the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

Skilled craftsmen are paid as much as $6 an hour, and unskilled workers earn $4 an hour, Dr. Mayberry said he learned in a visit to the 49th state.

Though rich in resources, the state is not particularly attractive for industry at the moment, as the population is only 200,000 (the size of Youngstown and East Liverpool combined) and the potential buyers are accordingly few, he said.

Alaska officially became a state Jan. 3, 1959. It is great in size, having one-fifth the area of the entire lower 48 states, Dr. Mayberry told the club.

"We expected to see lots of snow and ice on our four-weeks visit, but the only snow we saw was on the mountain-tops and the only ice was at the glaciers," he said.

Surprisingly enough, the climate of Juneau, capital city, averages about the same as East Liverpool, he said.

Dr. Mayberry told the club that Alaska has "good blacktop roads" but quickly added he would not like to drive his auto there and back over the Alaska Highway, formerly known as the Alcan Highway. The route is covered with gravel stones ranging from the size of an egg to a golfball, and they continually bombard the bottoms and sides of passing cars.

"We were on the road only 30 minutes when our windshield was broken by flying gravel," he recalled.

"We found farming to be a real chore in Alaska, hampered mainly by the type of soil," he said. A thin sod covers a layer of gravel and the cost of clearing an acre of land is $300.

The rocky soil limits the type of crops that can be grown there, with strawberries and cabbages two of the few crops that thrive. No corn, beans or tomatoes are grown in Alaska.

"Dairy farming is successful, however. There are crops of rye, oats and barley, in addition to a coarse grass which the farmers use for hay.

The state depends on military establishments for 75 per cent of its income, and spends money only on necessary items instead of producing its own, he said.

Dr. Mayberry was introduced by Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, who presided.

Awards Presented At Yule Fete Of Barbershop Singers

Presentation of awards highlighted the annual Christmas banquet held Monday night at the Travelers Hotel by the local Barbershop Quartet Society. Sixty - five attended.

Mrs. A. C. Bailey was named "Mrs. Barbershopper of the Year" while William Brooks was announced as the winner of the "Mr. Barbershopper of the Year" award.

They were presented plaques. Gerald Jividen, winner of the men's award last year, made the presentation to Mrs. Bailey while Wilbur Newman, also a past winner, presented the award to Brooks.

Donald Schussler, president, introduced guests and presented gifts to Brooks, chorus director, and Mrs. Bailey. Glenn Woods gave the invocation.

Dale Keddie, program chairman, introduced Richard C. Smith, councilor for Area 11 of the Johnny Appleseed District. Smith installed newly - elected officers.

They are Robert Blatchford, president; Glenn Hart, membership vice president; Richard E. Smith, program vice president; Earl Salisbury, secretary; Sam Wolf, treasurer, and Dean Manning, delegate.

Gifts were presented the women and out-of-town guests. During a musical program, selections were given by the Unarranged Four of Youngstown, the Mountain-Neers of Cadiz, the Welcomairs and Colonials of East Liverpool and the Great Scots of Toronto.

Brooks led in the group in carols. The chapter will hold its annual Christmas party for the children of members Dec. 18 at Carpenters Hall.

Burglar Alarm's Function Shown To Businessmen

Demonstration of an electronic burglar alarm device highlighted a meeting of the East Liverpool Merchants Association Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The device was demonstrated by Paul V. Baxter of McKinnon Ave., district representative of the Universal Security Electronics Corp. at Pittsburgh.

Twenty-four attended the demonstration, made timely by a recent increase in breaking and entering cases at business places.

Baxter pointed out the equipment can be set to react in a number of ways if it's touched off by an intruder — to turn on all the lights in the building; activate a camera to take photographs; sound an external alarm or relay an alarm to police headquarters via a direct telephone line or discharge a tear gas cartridge.

A number of letters were read commending the merchants association on the new Christmas decorations in the business district.

There was a general discussion of the association's activities early in 1962 and Ralph A. Finley, president, announced the Executive Committee will be asked to present a proposed program at the January meeting.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9, postponed a week because the regular session would have fallen the day after New Year's.

Chicken, ham, shrimp and tomatoes plus rice may be the underpinnings for jambalaya — a fine buffet supper dish. Onion, green pepper and garlic and the seasonings.

Word Puzzle Patent Sought By City Man

An East Liverpool man has applied for a U. S. patent on his design for a new crossword puzzle, which he hopes to sell to a newspaper syndicate or similar mass market.

Donald Blackburn, 937 Lisbon St., has developed a new idea in puzzles which he calls the AB-Easy. There's a simplified model designed especially for children which he calls AB-Easy Jr.

Blackburn's puzzle follows the usual pattern of crosswords — a series of blanks to be filled in from printed clues — with one major exception. In each square, part of the applicable letter appears as a clue to the puzzle fan. For instance, if "T" is the proper letter, one part of the letter such as the top crossbar would appear as a clue.

In the "junior" model, there's a large picture in the center of the square to help attract children's interest and also to supply additional clues in the solution of the game.

"I named it AB-Easy to follow out the slogan that the puzzle is 'easy as ABC'," Blackburn explained. He said he already has prepared a number of samples in order to apply for the government patent and for use in attempting to sell the idea to newspaper syndicates.

It's his first attempt to design a puzzle, but he has another project in the works — a board game. But he said he is marking time in the design of the game while he concentrates on finding a market for AB-Easy.

A native of East Liverpool, Blackburn is an employe of the Montgomery Ward & Co. store. A spare time hobbyist, he also is an accomplished wood - worker and has designed and constructed many built-in features for his home.

If you have the cover-type of teakettle, you can use it for melting chocolate. Have some water simmering in the kettle, after removing the cover and fitting a small bowl into the cover's space and put the chocolate in the bowl. Use a narrow rubber spatula to get every last drop of chocolate out of the bowl. You can melt chocolate directly over extremely low heat, but it has to be stirred and watched because it scorches easily.

If you have the cover-type of teakettle, you can use it for melting chocolate. Have some water simmering in the kettle, after removing the cover and fitting a small bowl into the cover's space and put the chocolate in the bowl. Use a narrow rubber spatula to get every last drop of chocolate out of the bowl. You can melt chocolate directly over extremely low heat, but it has to be stirred and watched because it scorches easily.

3 Starters In Double Figures

South Siders Capture 1st; Rout Northwestern, 62-37

Three starters scored in the double figures as South Side picked up its first victory of the season with a 62-37 rout of Northwestern Tuesday night at Hookstown.

Coach Dave Nichol's Rams, red hot in the shooting department, pulled away to a 13-5 lead at the first quarter mark and had no trouble bringing their season record to 1-1.

The margin at halftime reached 34-13 and read 45-27 after three periods.

The all-veteran Ram five was paced by Cecil Frazier who dropped in 17 points while Dale Ashcroft and Chuck Schmidt were right behind in the scoring column with 16 each.

Ashcroft and Frazier controlled the backboards for the Rams in their first success of the season.

Northwestern's Jerry Ingram paced the losers with 16 points.

South Side faces a major test Friday, traveling to meet a strong West Allegheny squad.

Jerome Szatkowski's 14 points led the South Side reserves to a 36-30 win in the preliminary.

Baylor Takes Off For Bowl Site

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor, which had a poor season when the won-loss record is considered but was picked for a bowl game because of its exciting offense, flies out this afternoon for New York where it will play Utah State in the new Gotham Bowl.

Utah State, which had a 9-0-1 record and was ranked tenth in the nation, left its home bound for the big city Tuesday night. So it will be there practicing at the Polo Grounds, scene of the game, when the Golden Bears arrive.

Baylor had a 5-5 record but while it didn't have the defense to stop anybody much it had an offense that kept the crowd on its toes. The Bears scored 19 more points than last year's Gator Bowl team that had an 8-2 record. It rolled up 235 more yards on the ground, scored five more touchdowns through the air and led the Southwest Conference in passing by completing five more throws than last year.

Hoppel, 2 Other County Gridders On Honorable Mention Selections

Beaver Local's fine all-around guard Dave Myers, a 165-pound junior, was named to the third All-Ohio offensive team. He is one of very few juniors to be named to one of the first three All-Ohio squads and becomes Beaver Local's first all-state football player.

Myers was one of the outstanding linebackers and offensive guards in the district this past season. An "A" student, he captained the Beavers and called defensive signals.

His teammate, Carl Hoppel, was named to an honorable mention spot on the Class AA All-Ohio squad.

Hoppel was the district's leading scorer the past season and was one of the big reasons Beaver Local chalked up a 7-1-2 record.

Two other gridders from Columbiana County were named on the honorable mention list. They included Lisbon's hard-running back, Gary Peruchetti, and guard Roger DeCrow of Salem.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's scholastic gridirons, the happy hunting grounds of talent-seeking collegiate coaches, were filled with big game this season.

The best of the Buckeye boys won the top accolades today — places on The Associated Press All-Ohio Class AA team which is recognized as official by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association.

Sixty-six youngsters, 33 on defensive and 33 on offensive teams, were named to the squad through information furnished by the state's sports writers, sportcasters and coaches.

As usual, the all-state linemen are big and fast. The backs are speedy and elusive, and most of them are triple-threats. All are capable of adorning the best of the collegiate gridirons — and some are certain to pop up on future All-America squads.

Rick Sygar, sterling halfback with the state champion Niles McKinley Dragons, was named the No. 1 back in Ohio. He's a 5-8 and 171-pound "Mr. Everything" who scored 25 touchdowns and 178 points, gained 1,200 yards in 149 tries, completed 8 of 14 passes for 56 yards and three touchdowns—and on defense intercepted 9 passes.

He wound up on the first defensive team — as did Alliance's great scat back, Glenn Hill, another prolific scorer.

The offensive backfield is a thing of beauty. At quarterback is North Canton Hoover's Dick Snyder, a 6-4 runner-passer deluxe. Dick completed 68 of 134 passes for 954 yards and a half-dozen touchdowns; ran 157 times for 1,420 yards; scored 104 points on 13 touchdowns and 26 conversions; averaged 37 yards on punts, 50 yards on kickoffs, and was in on about 40 per cent of the tackles on defense.

At halfback are Ray Matthews of Akron Garfield and Henry Weaver of Mansfield. Matthews, a 190-pounder, is rated by Akron coaches as the finest Rubber City running back since Don Clark starred at Ohio State. Weaver, is the state's fastest man — holder of the 100-yard and low hurdles titles — and he averaged better than 7 yards per try as he rolled up 96 points for the Tigers who lost only to Massillon.

The fullback is Steward Williams of Sandusky. The 212-pound 6-2 star scored 136 points, gained 1,516 yards in 201 carries for a 7.5-yard average. He'll be back next year, being the lone junior in the all-state backfield.

Up front are a flock of youthful giants. At end on offense are Ken Ivan of Massillon and Dennis Flanagan of Niles. Ivan is 6-2 and 182, Flanagan 6-3 and 215. Doug Van Horn of Columbus Eastmoor, and Pete Melchior of Canton Central, a pair of 6-2 giants who tip the scales at 215, man the tackle posts. The guards are Jim Fraraccio of Alliance, 6-1 and 230, and Ted Andrich of Cuyahoga Falls, 6-0 and 205. The center berth was won by Jay Mackey of Fremont Ross, 6-1 and 195.

Thus the offensive first team is big, fast and versatile. But the defensive corps is filled with offensive threats, too, and there's little to choose between the contingents.

It is a year of great quarterbacks. Larry Mackey of Akron St. Vincent, and John McCluskey of Middletown, two of the finest at the signal-calling post, wound up as halfbacks on the third team as they were crowded from the upper echelons by the huge talent crop. And Steubenville Central's "Slingin' Sam" Fornsaglio, probably the most proficient passer of the lot, was relegated to the third team as a defensive halfback.

First Team (Offense)

Ends: Ken Ivan, Massillon, and Dennis Flanagan, Niles.
Tackles: Doug Van Horn, Columbus Eastmoor, and Pete Melchior, Canton Central.
Guards: Jim Fraraccio, Alliance and Ted Andrich, Cuyahoga Falls.

Quarterback: Dick Snyder, North Canton.
Halfbacks: Ray Matthews, Akron Garfield, and Henry Weaver, Mansfield.
Fullback: Steward Williams, Sandusky.

First Team (Defense)

Ends: John Palmer, Kettering Fairmont, and Gary Miller, Bellevue.
Tackles: Karl Singer, Niles, and Ed Russell, Toledo Macomber.

Halfbacks: Rick Sygar, Niles, and Glenn Hill, Alliance.

Aloi's 23 Markers Lead Leopards' Attack Over Fired-Up Bridgers

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland High School Leopards, showing they had what it takes under fire, defeated the Ambridge High School Bridgers, 59-54, before a full house at Ambridge Tuesday night.

The Leopards fought off an Ambridge rally in the final stanza by dropping in six of 10 key foul shots and adding the right fielder at the right time.

Midland won the game at the foul line. Ambridge outscored the Leopards in field goals, 24-21, but Midland converted on 17 of 27 foul shots compared to 6 of 17 for Ambridge.

MIDLAND HIT on 21 of 68 attempts from the field for 31%. Ambridge meshed 24 of 73 field goals for 33%.

Leading the way for the Leopards once again was sharp-shooting Al Aloi, who garnered 23 points. Helping the Midland cause along with Aloi was Sam Forester, who dropped in 10 points, and Bill Sallis and Harry Petrosky with eight apiece. Sallis scored six of his eight points in the final quarter.

The Bridgers were led by their hustling forward, Tony Bartolo who hit for 16 points, six coming in the hectic fourth quarter. Behind him were Fred Klages with 14 and Mike Karas with 10. Klages dropped in eight of his points in the final quarter and led the Bridgers in their late spurt.

MIDLAND out-rebounded the Bridgers, 45-32. Forester pulled down 11 and Sallis 10 to lead Midland.

The game in the first half was a nip-and-tuck affair, with the score tied 10 times.

Midland took a 25-22 lead in the last minute of the half and was never headed again.

At the close of the third quarter Midland had enlarged its lead to 41-32 and it looked like they had the game well in hand. But Ambridge came roaring back.

As the quarter opened, it was a personal duel between Klages and Aloi. Klages dropped in four fielders while Aloi was busy sinking a jump and a foul shot and Midland's lead was cut to 44-40, with 5:44 remaining in the game.

Sallis then dropped in two rebound shots while Bill Murphy dropped in a charity toss for Ambridge and Midland seemed to be moving again, 48-41.

BUT here the Bridgers struck fast with three quick buckets and the Leopard lead was down to one, 48-47.

At this point Midland started to cash in on charity tosses. Rich Lake, with a one-and-one situation, dropped them both in and Midland was ahead by three. But again Ambridge came right back with a foul shot by Tom Stanko to cut Midland's lead to 50-48.

On the next play Stanko fouled Petrosky for his fifth personal and the Midland guard converted both ends of the one-and-one.

Midland seemed to have a safe lead at 55-48, with a little over a minute left to play.

But once again Ambridge struck back. Bartolo hit on a jump, Karas stole the ball and added a lay-up and Bartolo followed with another lay-up and the Leopard lead was cut to one point, 55-54, with 39 seconds remaining.

Forester ended all Ambridge hopes by stuffing in a rebound shot and then adding a foul toss to move the Leopards to a 59-54 lead with only nine seconds left.

Coach Ed Olkowski's Midland reserve squad picked up its second victory by romping over the Ambridge JV's, 68-33. Leading the Leopard JV's were Henry Slappy with 15 points and Ray Hoppa and Ron Alston with 13 points apiece.

The victory was the 20th consecutive for the Midland JV squad.

South Siders Capture 1st; Rout Northwestern, 62-37

Three starters scored in the double figures as South Side picked up its first victory of the season with a 62-37 rout of Northwestern Tuesday night at Hookstown.

Coach Dave Nichol's Rams, red hot in the shooting department, pulled away to a 13-5 lead at the first quarter mark and had no trouble bringing their season record to 1-1.

The margin at halftime reached 34-13 and read 45-27 after three periods.

The all-veteran Ram five was paced by Cecil Frazier who dropped in 17 points while Dale Ashcroft and Chuck Schmidt were right behind in the scoring column with 16 each.

Ashcroft and Frazier controlled the backboards for the Rams in their first success of the season.

Northwestern's Jerry Ingram paced the losers with 16 points.

South Side faces a major test Friday, traveling to meet a strong West Allegheny squad.

Jerome Szatkowski's 14 points led the South Side reserves to a 36-30 win in the preliminary.

N. Cumberland Defeated, 68-41

SHERRARD — New Cumberland turned as cold as the weather especially in the first half and dropped a 68-41 contest to Sherrard here Tuesday night.

It was the first defeat in two starts for Coach John Kuzio's team.

The Raiders could only produce 11 points in the first half and found themselves behind, 32-11 at intermission. Sherrard held a 49-21 margin at the end of three periods.

A 22-point total by Sherrard's Shaw featured for the winners while two of his teammates hit in the double figures.

Ken Freshwater tallied 12 points for the Raiders and Gary Nardo added 10.

The New Cumberland reserves came through for a 47-34 victory.

Baylor Takes Off For Bowl Site

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor, which had a poor season when the won-loss record is considered but was picked for a bowl game because of its exciting offense, flies out this afternoon for New York where it will play Utah State in the new Gotham Bowl.

Utah State, which had a 9-0-1 record and was ranked tenth in the nation, left its home bound for the big city Tuesday night. So it will be there practicing at the Polo Grounds, scene of the game, when the Golden Bears arrive.

Baylor had a 5-5 record but while it didn't have the defense to stop anybody much it had an offense that kept the crowd on its toes. The Bears scored 19 more points than last year's Gator Bowl team that had an 8-2 record. It rolled up 235 more yards on the ground, scored five more touchdowns through the air and led the Southwest Conference in passing by completing five more throws than last year.

Hoppel, 2 Other County Gridders On Honorable Mention Selections

Beaver Local's fine all-around guard Dave Myers, a 165-pound junior, was named to the third All-Ohio offensive team. He is one of very few juniors to be named to one of the first three All-Ohio squads and becomes Beaver Local's first all-state football player.

Myers was one of the outstanding linebackers and offensive guards in the district this past season. An "A" student, he captained the Beavers and called defensive signals.

His teammate, Carl Hoppel, was named to an honorable mention spot on the Class AA All-Ohio squad.

Hoppel was the district's leading scorer the past season and was one of the big reasons Beaver Local chalked up a 7-1-2 record.

Two other gridders from Columbiana County were named on the honorable mention list. They included Lisbon's hard-running back, Gary Peruchetti, and guard Roger DeCrow of Salem.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's scholastic gridirons, the happy hunting grounds of talent-seeking collegiate coaches, were filled with big game this season.

The best of the Buckeye boys won the top accolades today — places on The Associated Press All-Ohio Class AA team which is recognized as official by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association.

Sixty-six youngsters, 33 on defensive and 33 on offensive teams, were named to the squad through information furnished by the state's sports writers, sportcasters and coaches.

As usual, the all-state linemen are big and fast. The backs are speedy and elusive, and most of them are triple-threats. All are capable of adorning the best of the collegiate gridirons — and some are certain to pop up on future All-America squads.

Rick Sygar, sterling halfback with the state champion Niles McKinley Dragons, was named the No. 1 back in Ohio. He's a 5-8 and 171-pound "Mr. Everything" who scored 25 touchdowns and 178 points, gained 1,200 yards in 149 tries, completed 8 of 14 passes for 56 yards and three touchdowns—and on defense intercepted 9 passes.

He wound up on the first defensive team — as did Alliance's great scat back, Glenn Hill, another prolific scorer.

The offensive backfield is a thing of beauty. At quarterback is North Canton Hoover's Dick Snyder, a 6-4 runner-passer deluxe. Dick completed 68 of 134 passes for 954 yards and a half-dozen touchdowns; ran 157 times for 1,420 yards; scored 104 points on 13 touchdowns and 26 conversions; averaged 37 yards on punts, 50 yards on kickoffs, and was in on about 40 per cent of the tackles on defense.

At halfback are Ray Matthews of Akron Garfield and Henry Weaver of Mansfield. Matthews, a 190-pounder, is rated by Akron coaches as the finest Rubber City running back since Don Clark starred at Ohio State. Weaver, is the state's fastest man — holder of the 100-yard and low hurdles titles — and he averaged better than 7 yards per try as he rolled up 96 points for the Tigers who lost only to Massillon.

The fullback is Steward Williams of Sandusky. The 212-pound 6-2 star scored 136 points, gained 1,516 yards in 201 carries for a 7.5-yard average. He'll be back next year, being the lone junior in the all-state backfield.

Up front are a flock of youthful giants. At end on offense are Ken Ivan of Massillon and Dennis Flanagan of Niles. Ivan is 6-2 and 182, Flanagan 6-3 and 215. Doug Van Horn of Columbus Eastmoor, and Pete Melchior of Canton Central, a pair of 6-2 giants who tip the scales at 215, man the tackle posts. The guards are Jim Fraraccio of Alliance, 6-1 and 230, and Ted Andrich of Cuyahoga Falls, 6-0 and 205. The center berth was won by Jay Mackey of Fremont Ross, 6-1 and 195.

Thus the offensive first team is big, fast and versatile. But the defensive corps is filled with offensive threats, too, and there's little to choose between the contingents.

It is a year of great quarterbacks. Larry Mackey of Akron St. Vincent, and John McCluskey of Middletown, two of the finest at the signal-calling post, wound up as halfbacks on the third team as they were crowded from the upper echelons by the huge talent crop. And Steubenville Central's "Slingin' Sam" Fornsaglio, probably the most proficient passer of the lot, was relegated to the third team as a defensive halfback.

Aloi's 23 Markers Lead Leopards' Attack Over Fired-Up Bridgers

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland High School Leopards, showing they had what it takes under fire, defeated the Ambridge High School Bridgers, 59-54, before a full house at Ambridge Tuesday night.

The Leopards fought off an Ambridge rally in the final stanza by dropping in six of 10 key foul shots and adding the right fielder at the right time.

Midland won the game at the foul line. Ambridge outscored the Leopards in field goals, 24-21, but Midland converted on 17 of 27 foul shots compared to 6 of 17 for Ambridge.

MIDLAND HIT on 21 of 68 attempts from the field for 31%. Ambridge meshed 24 of 73 field goals for 33%.

Leading the way for the Leopards once again was sharp-shooting Al Aloi, who garnered 23 points. Helping the Midland cause along with Aloi was Sam Forester, who dropped in 10 points, and Bill Sallis and Harry Petrosky with eight apiece. Sallis scored six of his eight points in the final quarter.

The Bridgers were led by their hustling forward, Tony Bartolo who hit for 16 points, six coming in the hectic fourth quarter. Behind him were Fred Klages with 14 and Mike Karas with 10. Klages dropped in eight of his points in the final quarter and led the Bridgers in their late spurt.

MIDLAND out-rebounded the Bridgers, 45-32. Forester pulled down 11 and Sallis 10 to lead Midland.

The game in the first half was a nip-and-tuck affair, with the score tied 10 times.

Midland took a 25-22 lead in the last minute of the half and was never headed again.

At the close of the third quarter Midland had enlarged its lead to 41-32 and it looked like they had the game well in hand. But Ambridge came roaring back.

As the quarter opened, it was a personal duel between Klages and Aloi. Klages dropped in four fielders while Aloi was busy sinking a jump and a foul shot and Midland's lead was cut to 44-40, with 5:44 remaining in the game.

Sallis then dropped in two rebound shots while Bill Murphy dropped in a charity toss for Ambridge and Midland seemed to be moving again, 48-41.

BUT here the Bridgers struck fast with three quick buckets and the Leopard lead was down to one, 48-47.

At this point Midland started to cash in on charity tosses. Rich Lake, with a one-and-one situation, dropped them both in and Midland was ahead by three. But again Ambridge came right back with a foul shot by Tom Stanko to cut Midland's lead to 50-48.

On the next play Stanko fouled Petrosky for his fifth personal and the Midland guard converted both ends of the one-and-one.

Midland seemed to have a safe lead at 55-48, with a little over a minute left to play.

But once again Ambridge struck back. Bartolo hit on a jump, Karas stole the ball and added a lay-up and Bartolo followed with another lay-up and the Leopard lead was cut to one point, 55-54, with 39 seconds remaining.

Forester ended all Ambridge hopes by stuffing in a rebound shot and then adding a foul toss to move the Leopards to a 59-54 lead with only nine seconds left.

Coach Ed Olkowski's Midland reserve squad picked up its second victory by romping over the Ambridge JV's, 68-33. Leading the Leopard JV's were Henry Slappy with 15 points and Ray Hoppa and Ron Alston with 13 points apiece.

The victory was the 20th consecutive for the Midland JV squad.

2 Veterans Back From Wellsville's Sectional Title Team

Baldwin, Ours Return; Tigers Open Season At Lisbon Friday

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," wrote Shakespeare centuries ago.

The bard's quip fits for Wellsville High's Tigers, who open their 1961-62 season Friday weakened by the loss of three regulars from last year's Sectional AA championship squad.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers will be gunning for their fourth winning campaign in succession when they take the floor against Lisbon in the season's opener.

McDevitt's fifth squad at Wellsville will have plenty of height and muscle, but it's doubtful that there will be a star comparable to Bob Kiggans, mainstay of last year's quintet.

THAT is not unless towering Steve (Sticks) Baldwin, 6-6 center, develops into a strong scoring threat quicker than anticipated.

At the moment, Baldwin appears a year away from greatness, but the experience he gained as a regular last season could speed things.

A junior, Baldwin returns with guard Roger Ours to fill two spots in the Tiger lineup. Ours, 5-8 senior, is a fair shot from the outside and was a leading playmaker on McDevitt's 13-8 squad of last year.

Baldwin (187 pounds) will provide the necessary height for the Tigers, while the muscle under the boards will be supplied by Alvin Jackson, 6-1, 200-pound junior up from the reserves. A southpaw, he scores well from close range.

ALSO UP from the reserves is Ed Nelson, 6-2, who has clinched a starting role for the opener. A junior, he is considered a fine shot and "has come along pretty good," in the words of McDevitt.

Filling out the starting five will be Alvin Thompson, 5-10 junior, a well-coordinated athlete who has plenty of speed. Thompson also made the jump from reserve ball to the varsity.

McDevitt looks for only a fair season without the services of Kiggans, a four-year letterman who scored 1,119 points and led the Tigers to the district finals at New Concord last year. It's doubtful that the Tigers can overcome the loss of his services to repeat as Sectional winners.

In addition to Kiggans, now at The Citadel, McDevitt also lost by graduation regular Phil Baldwin (Bowling Green), Rodney Ferguson and Rick Gray (Ohio State), Ben Cannadate and Ben Jones.

"WE DON'T have anybody to replace them, and we'll be short on experience," McDevitt observed. "However, we might get better as the season rolls along," he added.

The squad appeared fairly sharp against Beaver, but "wasn't too impressive" in a scrimmage with Stanton Local, McDevitt said.

McDevitt, whose coaching record at Wellsville shows 50 victories and 33 defeats in five years, has these varsity contenders on the roster in addition to the starting five:

Andy Dash, 5-11 junior, due for a utility role; Jerry Hoskinson, 6-0 senior; Mark Leyda, 5-7 junior; Milton Martin, 6-3 junior; Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior; Don Welch, 5-9 junior; John Euill, 5-11 senior, and Jim Powell, 5-8 junior. and Frank Luckino, 5-10, senior.

Martin and Harris, each with ample height, "might help me later," McDevitt commented. Hoskinson and Welch also are due for action. "Welch doesn't look too bad, he might be a sleeper," McDevitt points out.

Handling this year's reserve squad is Charles (Chick) McMillan, a graduate of Marietta College, who succeeded Carl Firm.

COACH JACK McDEVITT of Wellsville High huddles with the only two returning regulars of his Sectional championship squad of last year, Steve Baldwin, 6-6 center, and guard Roger Ours. He will have to fill the empty shoes worn previously by Bob Kiggans, Phil Baldwin and Rod Ferguson with untested reserves.

Beaver Local Wrestlers Smash Opening Foe With 42-12 Win

Beaver Local's strong wrestlers had little trouble disposing of their opening opponent when Warren Howland fell, 42-12, Tuesday on the Beaver Local mats.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers won eight of 11 matches and recorded eight pins.

Jim Obney opened proceedings by pinning Warren's Lugiewicz in the 103-pound battle. Other falls were recorded by Beaver Local's Fred Woodburn, Francis Possage, Rickey Hoppel, Carl Hoppel, Roy Carter and John Steele. Gary Bookman won a 5-0 decision in the 145-pound battle.

Beaver Local dropped the 112-pound match when Miller of Warren pinned Farnum Shasteen in 4:25 and Datesh pinned Beaver heavyweight Ken Matheny in 1:37.

The 120-pound match between Beaver Local's John Cook and Warren's Maze ended in a draw.

Beaver Local takes the mats next on Dec. 16 in a quadrangular match at Williamsport.

103 — Obney (BL) pinned Lugiewicz (W) 1:07.
112 — Miller (W) pinned Shasteen (BL) 4:25.
120 — Cook (BL) and Maze (W) draw.
127 — Woodburn (BL) pinned Valentine (W) 39 seconds.

First Aviation Bowl Classic To Unfold Saturday

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two teams with contrasting offenses—Western Michigan and New Mexico—clash here Saturday in the first annual Aviation Bowl.

Coach Merle Schlosser's Broncos boast the Mid-American Conference's leading passer in Ed Chlebek while New Mexico looks to two hard-running halfbacks to carry the brunt of a strong ground game.

The Lobos, who finished in a tie for third place in the Skyline Conference, are slight favorites to cop the contest.

But most observers here are looking for a high-scoring, wide-open duel and rate the game a toss-up.

Halfback, Tackle Lead Little All-Americans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven of the country's smaller colleges have contributed their stars to the 1961 Associated Press Little All-America football team, a team that boasts two players chosen in the early rounds of the pro drafts.

The highly rated pair is Ray Jacobs, 270-pound tackle from Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Tex., and Leroy Jackson, sprinter and halfback of Western Illinois.

Jacobs was chosen in the first round of the American Football League draft by Houston. He also was named on the 17th round by Dallas of the National Football League, and there is a controversy over which club holds a prior claim because he immediately signed contracts with both.

Jackson, third in the NCAA 100-yard dash last spring, was chosen on the first round of the NFL draft by the Cleveland Browns and was the third choice of the Boston Patriots in the AFL. He recently was named the outstanding back in Illinois intercollegiate circles.

Others on the front line with the huge Jacobs are ends Drew Roberts of Humboldt State and Powell McClellan of Arkansas Tech; David Baxter of Tennessee Tech in the other tackle slot; guards Dan Lewis of Wofford and Wendell Williams of the State College of Iowa, and Curtis Miranda of Florida A & M at center. All are seniors with an average age of 21. Their average height is 6-2 and their average weight 218.

In the backfield with the speedy Jackson are Bobby Jancik of Lamar Tech, Gary Snadon of Pittsburg, Kan., State, the nation's top small college team, and Joe Iacone of West Chestre, Pa., Teachers. Iacone is the only junior. The backfield averages 186 pounds and 5-11 in height.

Walston Only 8 Points Shy Of NFL Mark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — End Bobby Walston of the Philadelphia Eagles is well aware he needs only eight points to surpass Don Hutson's National Football League career scoring record and he'd love to do it against the New York Giants here Sunday in the top game of the week.

"But first and foremost in my mind is winning," said Walston in viewing the crucial battle which could lead to the Eastern Conference crown. The Eagles and Giants are tied for the lead with 9-3 marks. Each club willhave one game remaining after Sunday's contest.

The 33-year-old Walston, also a place-kicking specialist rounding out his 11th year with the Eagles, has 818 points going into the game. Hutson racked up 825 points during an outstanding career with Green Bay.

Actually, Walston is third in the all-time scoring derby. Lou Groza of Cleveland with 825 points needs only two points to surpass Hutson and "The Toe" appears a cinch to do it against Chicago Sunday. The second-place Browns also are in the thick of the Eastern race, in second place with an 8-4 mark.

In other NFL games Sunday, Green Bay, which already has won the Western Conference title is at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at Washington, Dallas at St. Louis and Minnesota at Detroit.

Colleges, AAU Slate Showdown On Basketball

WASHINGTON (AP)— Colleges and the Amateur Athletic Union meet today in a showdown session with an international mediator trying to resolve their bitter dispute over control of basketball.

The mediator, Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., said he would have a compromise proposal "that should start some discussion."

He added, "I feel that we can reach a satisfactory solution, one that will give a fair shake to everybody involved, unless someone is just interested in trying to control everything."

Represented at the meeting will be all major groups interested in basketball in the United States and Canada, including the contending AAU and National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The NCAA has been trying to establish a separate basketball federation which would divide among a number of groups the authority now held by the AAU.

Baldwin, Ours Return; Tigers Open Season At Lisbon Friday

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," wrote Shakespeare centuries ago.

The bard's quip fits for Wellsville High's Tigers, who open their 1961-62 season Friday weakened by the loss of three regulars from last year's Sectional AA championship squad.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers will be gunning for their fourth winning campaign in succession when they take the floor against Lisbon in the season's opener.

McDevitt's fifth squad at Wellsville will have plenty of height and muscle, but it's doubtful that there will be a star comparable to Bob Kiggans, mainstay of last year's quintet.

THAT is not unless towering Steve (Sticks) Baldwin, 6-6 center, develops into a strong scoring threat quicker than anticipated.

At the moment, Baldwin appears a year away from greatness, but the experience he gained as a regular last season could speed things.

A junior, Baldwin returns with guard Roger Ours to fill two spots in the Tiger lineup. Ours, 5-8 senior, is a fair shot from the outside and was a leading playmaker on McDevitt's 13-8 squad of last year.

Baldwin (187 pounds) will provide the necessary height for the Tigers, while the muscle under the boards will be supplied by Alvin Jackson, 6-1, 200-pound junior up from the reserves. A southpaw, he scores well from close range.

ALSO UP from the reserves is Ed Nelson, 6-2, who has clinched a starting role for the opener. A junior, he is considered a fine shot and "has come along pretty good," in the words of McDevitt.

Filling out the starting five will be Alvin Thompson, 5-10 junior, a well-coordinated athlete who has plenty of speed. Thompson also made the jump from reserve ball to the varsity.

McDevitt looks for only a fair season without the services of Kiggans, a four-year letterman who scored 1,119 points and led the Tigers to the district finals at New Concord last year. It's doubtful that the Tigers can overcome the loss of his services to repeat as Sectional winners.

In addition to Kiggans, now at The Citadel, McDevitt also lost by graduation regular Phil Baldwin (Bowling Green), Rodney Ferguson and Rick Gray (Ohio State), Ben Cannadate and Ben Jones.

"WE DON'T have anybody to replace them, and we'll be short on experience," McDevitt observed. "However, we might get better as the season rolls along," he added.

The squad appeared fairly sharp against Beaver, but "wasn't too impressive" in a scrimmage with Stanton Local, McDevitt said.

McDevitt, whose coaching record at Wellsville shows 50 victories and 33 defeats in five years, has these varsity contenders on the roster in addition to the starting five:

Andy Dash, 5-11 junior, due for a utility role; Jerry Hoskinson, 6-0 senior; Mark Leyda, 5-7 junior; Milton Martin, 6-3 junior; Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior; Don Welch, 5-9 junior; John Euill, 5-11 senior, and Jim Powell, 5-8 junior, and Frank Luckino, 5-10, senior.

Martin and Harris, each with ample height, "might help me later," McDevitt commented. Hoskinson and Welch also are due for action. "Welch doesn't look too bad, he might be a sleeper," McDevitt points out.

Handling this year's reserve squad is Charles (Chick) McMillan, a graduate of Marietta College, who succeeded Carl Firm.

The 1961-62 schedule follows:

COACH JACK McDEVITT of Wellsville High huddles with the only two returning regulars of his Sectional championship squad of last year, Steve Baldwin, 6-6 center, and guard Roger Ours. He will have to fill the empty shoes worn previously by Bob Kiggans, Phil Baldwin and Rod Ferguson with untested reserves.

First Aviation Bowl Classic To Unfold Saturday

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two teams with contrasting offenses—Western Michigan and New Mexico—clash here Saturday in the first annual Aviation Bowl.

Coach Merle Schlosser's Broncos boast the Mid-American Conference's leading passer in Ed Chlebek while New Mexico looks to two hard-running halfbacks to carry the brunt of a strong ground game.

The Lobos, who finished in a tie for third place in the Skyline Conference, are slight favorites to cop the contest.

Small College Grid Title To Be At Stake

Kennedy Scores At Football Dinner

NEW YORK (AP) — President John F. Kennedy, a former Harvard junior varsity player and the nation's No. 1 touch football fan, wants no part of the current controversy over whether baseball or football now is the national pastime.

But, grinning, he advises Notre Dame not to give back its controversial 17-15 victory over Syracuse last month.

Referring to a close victory of his own in 1960, he said he had no intention of giving that back.

The President was the featured speaker Tuesday night at the annual awards dinner of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. He was the recipient of the foundation's Gold Medal Award, given for the example he has set in recognizing the major role of amateur athletics in fostering moral values and leadership.

He shared the head table with eight former players and one of two former coaches who were inducted into the Hall of Fame and eight others honored as scholar athletes.

Referring to the baseball-football controversy, he said:

"The sad fact is that it looks more and more as if our great national sport is not playing at all—but watching. We have become more and more not a nation of athletes, but a nation of spectators. The result of this shift from participation to—if I may coin a word—spectation is all too visible in the physical condition of our population."

Kennedy called the American people physically soft as a result of push button living.

"We are under-exercised as a nation," he said. "We look instead of play, ride instead of walk. Our push-button existence deprives us of the minimum of physical activity essential for healthy living."

He called for a long, serious look at the nation's physical condition, and for a change in the way millions of Americans live.

Kennedy took time out from his dinner to visit a group of Alabama alumni and transmit a message to a student rally underway at Tuscaloosa, Ala., congratulating the Crimson Tide on its undefeated season and its invitation to the Sugar Bowl.

Paul (Bear) Bryant, Alabama coach, and quarterback Pat Trammell accepted the MacArthur Bowl at the dinner on behalf of the Crimson Tide, selected by the foundation as the nation's top team.

Bryant called his team — also selected by The Associated Press as the best in the country—"the best I've been associated with in all my career."

Former players inducted into the Hall of Fame were halfback Glenn Davis of Army (1944-46); Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, North Carolina halfback (1946-49); George McAfee, Duke halfback (1937-39); Bob Reynolds, Stanford tackle (1933-35); Bob Suffridge, Tennessee guard (1938-40); Weldon Humble, Rice guard (1941-42, 1946); Pat Pazzetti, Lehigh and Wesleyan quarterback (1908-1912) and Claude Reeds, Oklahoma halfback (1910-13).

Coaches added to the Hall of Fame were Don Faurot, athletic director and former coach at Missouri, and the late Charlie Caldwell of Princeton, Yale and Williams.

4 In Hubcap Thefts Receive Detention

LISBON — Four Salem R. D. 5 area youths, three 17 and one 16, were sentenced to a week's detention in the county jail, fined $25 each and their driver licenses were suspended for six-months at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The youths, cited early Monday morning by Salem police, admitted taking eight hubcaps from cars at several locations in Salem.

The license number of their car was given to police by Constable John Wonner after a nurse at the Salem City Hospital had called police when she observed the youths. They had disappeared by time the Salem cruiser arrived. Police checked at the owner's home and found the hubcaps on the floor of his car.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation will prosecute the younger brother for driving a stolen car over the Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line.

The two were arrested near Lisbon Saturday after they were observed driving identical cars with the same license plate on the front of each. The younger man has been taken to U. S. District Court at Cleveland for a hearing.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Tullis, driving north, swerved off a curve on Route 164 a half mile north of Lisbon at 9:30, hitting a mail box, veering back across the highway and overturning down an embankment.

The truck was damaged extensively, according to officers, who said Tullis will be cited for driving while intoxicated.

4 In Hubcap Thefts Receive Detention

LISBON — Four Salem R. D. 5 area youths, three 17 and one 16, were sentenced to a week's detention in the county jail, fined $25 each and their driver licenses were suspended for six-months at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The youths, cited early Monday morning by Salem police, admitted taking eight hubcaps from cars at several locations in Salem.

The license number of their car was given to police by Constable John Wonner after a nurse at the Salem City Hospital had called police when she observed the youths. They had disappeared by time the Salem cruiser arrived. Police checked at the owner's home and found the hubcaps on the floor of his car.

Brother Released In Stolen Car Case

LISBON — George Shaffer, 28, of Cleveland was released Tuesday from the Columbiana County Jail when Washington (Pa.) authorities refused to extradite him for auto larceny, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

His brother, Alfred Shaffer, 26, is accused of stealing a 1955 Oldsmobile hardtop from Washington early Saturday morning.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation will prosecute the younger brother for driving a stolen car over the Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line.

The two were arrested near Lisbon Saturday after they were observed driving identical cars with the same license plate on the front of each. The younger man has been taken to U. S. District Court at Cleveland for a hearing.

Columbiana Trucker Hurt, Faces Hearing

LISBON — A 42-year-old Columbiana man faces drunken driving charges as a result of a pickup-truck mishap near Lisbon Tuesday night which hospitalized him.

Robert J. Tullis is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with lacerations of the head and abrasions of the face, hands and legs.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Tullis, driving north, swerved off a curve on Route 164 a half mile north of Lisbon at 9:30, hitting a mail box, veering back across the highway and overturning down an embankment.

The truck was damaged extensively, according to officers, who said Tullis will be cited for driving while intoxicated.

Mayor To Fill Posts

Terms Of 6 In Municipal Boards To Expire Dec. 31

The terms of six members of four unsalaried municipal boards and commissions are scheduled to expire at midnight Dec. 31. The posts are subject to appointment by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

The expiring terms are held by:

Atty. Robert A. Kapp, Wilford Padgett and James J. McGowan, all members of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Public Library.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin, on the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners.

Mrs. Ila Finney Johnston, on the Board of Health.

Donal I. Burcham on the Civil Service Commission.

Expiration dates of terms on the city board are staggered so that a few run out at the end of each year. For instance, seven ran out at the end of 1957, three expired at the close of 1958, four ended with the last day of 1959 and five ran out at the end of 1960.

Hold-over members of the Library Board are Mrs. Charles Goodman, Miss Sarah Heddleston and William W. Watkin, whose terms run to Dec. 31, 1964.

Continuing as members of the Health Board will be: Dr. C. M. Mayberry, whose term runs through 1962; Emil R. Liebschner Jr., 1963; C. Frank Dales, 1964, and Dr. J. Keith Rugh, 1965. Howard Claypool is clerk, elected by the board.

Hold-over members of the Park Board are: Atty. William H. Vodrey, 1962; Louis Yanni, 1963, and W. Leland Thompson, 1964. Judge Tobin is president and Thompson is secretary.

Remaining on the Civil Service Commission are Atty. Ben H. Berman, 1963, and Clarence E. Reagle, 1965. P. K. Calhoon is secretary, elected by the commission.

The end of the biennium also means expiration of the terms of four councilmen serving as the city's representatives on the fire and police pension boards. The new public representatives will be named when Council reorganizes for the 1962-63 term.

Councilmen John Melvin and Donald Smith now represent the city on the police pension board.

Councilmen John Kelly and Donald Hancock represent the city on the firemen's pension board.

Each of the boards will get two brand new members, as the Council terms of all four of the incumbents end at the close of 1961.

Yule Decoration Contest To Be On Religious Theme

A Christmas decoration contest on a religious theme will be sponsored by the parish of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville.

Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor, said anyone may enter the contest and a person may enter a display set up by a neighbor.

Entry blanks will be available at the church Sunday. The theme will be "Keep Christ In Christmas."

Fr. Curran said the two general rules are that the display be on a religious theme and that it be erected so it can be viewed by the general public from the street.

The judges will be announced later. The judging will be held on Christmas Eve after 7. The prizes will be Nativity crib sets.

Fr. Curran emphasized the contest is open to any individual or business, and not just members of the parish.

City GOP Executives Discuss Activities

Futures plans and activities were discussed at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Tuesday evening at Tice's Restaurant.

Sam Webber, president, presided. The committee includes James Lowe, Charles Boso, John Thompson, Harold Gallimore and Harold Allison.

Wellsville Christmas Decorations Erected

Wellsville's Christmas decorations have been erected along Main St. in the business district.

The decorations consist of large, lighted candy canes on the utility poles and the traditional decorated tree at the city square at 4th and Main Sts.

The decorations are an annual project of the Chamber of Commerce. The program is supported by donations from businesses, organizations and individuals.

Council To Meet In Extra Session On Skating Laws

Council will meet in special session tonight at 9:45, expecting to give the second of three required readings to an ordinance that would lift the ban on Sunday roller skating in East Liverpool, permitting the lone rink to operate from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m.

The ordinance was given first reading Monday night, 5-1. Without a switch in votes, two more readings would be required to enact it into law, as a minimum of six is required for immediate passage of any measure.

But Council has only one more regular session scheduled — Dec. 18 — before all the present members leave office. So Councilmen Donald Hancock, John Melvin and Clifford Cooper exercised the prerogative in Council's rules that allows any three members to request a special session. President Charles N. Edwards issued the call last night for the extra session.

The Sunday skating bill previously was proposed in January, but withdrawn after a stiff protest from the East Liverpool Ministerial Association. The ministers' group also protested Monday night when the proposal was revived.

On first reading, the bill was supported by Councilmen Hancock, Melvin, Cooper, Norman Bucher and Robert Laughlin, with Councilman John Kelly as the only dissenter. Councilman Donald Smith was absent.

Glenmoor Post Plans Dinner On Saturday

Glenmoor American Legion Post 736 met Tuesday night and discussed plans for a coverdish dinner to be held Saturday at 6 p. m. at the post home.

It will be for members and guests. Those planning to attend may call the post home for reservations.

Five new members were accepted. Robert Buckley and Fred Morgan Jr. were appointed to the committee planning a Christmas party for children.

Robert Boyd, first vice commander, presided. Bert Keck is commander. Next meeting is Dec. 19.

Heart Attack Blamed In Motorist's Death

James R. Burnham, 54, of Akron died of a heart attack Sunday night after a two-car crash on Route 30 near Chester, it was determined at an inquest held Tuesday night at New Cumberland.

Hancock County Coroner John D. Herron said an autopsy showed that Mr. Burnham died of natural causes and not from injuries received in the crash at 7:15 near the intersection of Routes 30 and 2.

He expired at 7:40 in City Hospital after his vehicle and another driven by Mrs. Ruth Haynes, 56, of Newell collided. The results of the autopsy performed by a Weirton General Hospital pathologist exonerate the Newell woman from any major traffic charge in connection with the mishap, the coroner commented.

Weirton Steel Picks 2 For New Positions

WEIRTON — Creation of two new positions in the engineering department of Weirton Steel Co. was announced today.

Joseph M. Bendot will assume the cost of assistant chief engineer in charge of steelmaking facilities. J. W. Martt will become assistant chief engineer in charge of finishing facilities.

In another promotion, L. A. Fugassi was named assistant vice president of engineering in the National Steel Co., parent company. The city engineer of Weirton in the first term of Mayor Thomas E. Millsop, he had been chief engineer of National's Midwest Division.

Presbytery's Carol Festival Set Sunday

The Steubenville Presbytery's annual carol festival will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church on Maine Blvd. The public is invited.

A special youth choir of 100 voices will present a program of Christmas music. Senior High members from all churches in the Presbytery will participate.

The young people will meet at the church at 2:30 p. m. for registration and practice.

State Welfare Aide And Judge To Confer

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin said he has been advised by letter that Miss Dorothy Held, investigator for the State Welfare Department, will contact his office on her next trip through this area concerning his refusal to authorize a Wellsville girl support for her illegitimate child.

Judge Tobin notified the state department earlier that he had advised the Columbiana County Welfare Department not to give her support. The girl then complained to the State Welfare Department.

In his letter to the state department, Judge Tobin said that if the county was made to support the child he would declare the 16-year-old mother delinquent and place her in the Girls Industrial School and place the baby in a welfare home.

Judge Tobin said that the girl's family has assumed support of the child.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My wife devotes 100 per cent of her energy and time to our two teen-age daughters. She's so busy sewing for them that when I need a button on a shirt she hands me a needle and says, "Sew it on yourself."

The girls rule our lives. My wife cooks what they like, we drive the kind of car they want and we vacation at the places they select.

I'm well aware that the male hasn't been the head of the house in America for quite some time but at least in some families they pretend that he has a little authority.

One woman bossing me around I could take — but not three. Perhaps I'd be happier alone — especially now that the muling, drooling teen-age boys are beginning to hang around. What do you think? — TURNING WORM.

Dear Worm: I think you tipped your mitt in that line about the teen-age boys.

You are insecure and emotionally immature. A well-adjusted husband doesn't compete with his children for their mother's attention as you have been doing for years. And now you're jealous of the teen-age boys and you view them as competition, too.

Leaving home is no solution, Sonny. See a head doctor.

The Important Thing

Dear Ann: My fiance is a wonderful guy — thoughtful, kind and generous. But somehow he thinks small, superficial details (as he calls them) are unimportant. He has given me many lovely gifts but nothing is ever wrapped properly or even offered in a box.

Last Christmas he handed me a strand of pearls which he carried in a business envelope. Even my engagement ring came straight out of his pocket. When I asked him for the box he said he threw it away.

Don't you feel that with a little effort he could correct this fault? —SWEETIE PIE.

Dear Sweetie: You're off base a country mile. A gal who asks, "Where's the box?" when she gets an engagement ring is paying too much attention to hair-splitting detail.

One of the loveliest and most meaningful gifts I ever received came wrapped in — believe it or not, the Chicago Tribune — so help me! And I loved it anyway.

Uninvited Guests

Dear Ann: My husband and I were invited to a family get-together. It was to be a buffet dinner and everyone was asked to bring something. Just as I was putting the last batch of fried chicken into the basket the doorbell rang. Some friends who live about 30 miles from here dropped in to see us.

I phoned my sister and asked if we could bring this couple and their three children. I even offered to provide extra food for them, since I had plenty. She said in a cool voice, "No, it is not all right. This is a family party."

I got mad and slammed down the receiver. We did not go. The whole family is mad at me, including my husband. I say my sister was unspeakably rude. What's your opinion. — OUTS.

Dear Outs: You were wrong to put the dropper-inners ahead of the planned family party. And you should not have tried to drag them along.

People shouldn't allow themselves to be victimized by anyone who knows how to ring a doorbell. You should have said, "I'm sorry, but we have a previous commitment," and gone on your way.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Dear friends,

It is for the family to decide upon the pattern of the funeral, unless the deceased left specific instructions. Church affiliation, membership in a lodge or fraternal organization, a military service record, are factors in planning the rites.

Our service as funeral directors is to coordinate arrangements to satisfy your wishes and to provide a memorable funeral ceremony.

Respectfully,

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Useful Playthings Make Best Gifts

In looking for toys for your child, you naturally consider what will appeal to him, what will be reasonably safe, what will help him learn physical skills and stimulate him to reason, create and invent. Blocks of various dimensions have the most universal and lasting appeal, from the level of mere manipulation to high grade construction. Pieces of wood and other constructive toys which the child can profitably take apart and put together again have obvious value, and there need be no age limit.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THE CHILD from two to five needs crayons, large sheets of paper, cardboard, water paints, scissors, paste and simple tools and materials for construction. Gradually, he can develop a workshop with an ample tool supply.

It's hard to imagine a parent overlooking books as Christmas gifts — books to read to the preschool child and books for him to enjoy reading as he grows older.

Among educational materials are good chemistry sets from which a child may derive some basic scientific principles. Given, however, to the child too young, or to any child who has not yet learned safety precautions, chemistry sets can be hazardous.

—:—

SAFE EDUCATIONAL kits for self-teaching in the natural sciences may be found at any good store. Known as "Golden Capitol Adventure Kits", they include separate kits on rocks, sea shells, insects, birds, stars, weather and plants.

With one of these kits, a child over seven or eight may learn a vast deal of classified nature information.

For example, the kit on birds includes an easy - to - assemble wooden feeding station, bird seed and audubon bird chart. The 94-page booklet with 140 pictures tells how to identify, feed and watch birds.

THESE KITS have been devised and assembled by scientists and educators who know how children learn. They are most unusual, and the price is a modest $2.95. Of all the new types of things developed this year that might be considered "playthings with a purpose," this series strikes me as the best of any I know about.

My bulletin, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Proper Posture Helps Trim Figure

Act out this on-the-team posture technique: "Pull your dining-room up, and your siting - room down!" With the stomach muscles pulled up snugly, and your sitting muscles pulled down neatly, your figures looks and feels slimmer. . .pounds and inches slimmer.

Ida Jean Kain

The word posture has little meaning until you regard it in terms of shaping your silhouette. Correct alignment helps you to get on the slim up and down muscle track. The center of gravity of the body lies in the pelvic girdle.

The muscles of the buttocks have the very important role of keeping the pelvis pushes forward directly under the rest of the torso. If the buttock muscles are allowed to bustle rearward loosely, the pelvis has a tendency to tilt backward at the base, resulting in sway-back.

THE MAJOR abdominal is a fine strap of muscle that extends from the pubic bone in front of the body, to the breast bone. Using this muscle to pull up to your full height, streamlines the middle measurement.

The abdominals are capable of two movements. . .they pull up and in. The idea of pulling in with these muscles is well known. . . but it's the up-and-in pull which keeps the abdomen flat and firm.

The midsection muscles themselves must "lift" the figure. Don't raise your shoulders, the up-pull muscles are not attached there. Keep shoulders straight, but down and relaxed.

Forget the old rule of "pull your shoulders back". Square your shoulders. If you need a rule, try this, pull your shoulder blades together And one last reminder, pull up with that bump of self-esteem on the top of your head. Recognize that posture grows old from the shoulder blades up. A rounded upper back is the badge of age.

Act out this exercise: Lie on your back, knees bent, soles of feet on floor, arms out-stretched at shoulder level, with elbows bent so lower arms and upward palms form an L with each shoulder.

Now, roll your pelvis under by pulling up firmly with abdominal muscles and pressing small of back against the floor. Hold for a moment. .relax and repeat. Hold the muscle contraction, but breathe freely.

FROM THE same position, after contracting with abdominals, raise hips just slightly off floor and maintain the up-and-in-pull . . .hold for slow count of 10. Do not arch small of back. Repeat 5 to 10 times, always holding.

To get the habit of beautiful posture, every time you stop for a traffic light, "pull your dining-room up, your sitting room down". Practice makes perfect.

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for leaflet, "Get A Lift With Posture." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Court Dismisses Tenants' Charge In Rental Dispute

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday dismissed a criminal charge against a woman landlord accused of locking up a tenant's household furnishings in an attempt to force payment of $45 in allegedly overdue rent.

The complaint was filed against Mrs. Kathleen Hill, 203 Ravine St., by Eugene Michael and Jay Brown, who said they rented property from her at 942 Dresden Ave.

The affidavit alleged that Michael and Brown were in the act of vacating the property, as requested by the landlord, when Mrs. Hill "seized, locked up and secreted certain personal property of the complainants — a chest of drawers, an end table, a breakfast set and an armchair — for the purpose of converting the property to her own use."

The judge granted a motion to dismiss made jointly by Atty. George Aronson, defense counsel, and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor.

Clark said there was no criminal intent on the part of the landlord, but in filing the charge he sought to "clarify" the relationship of tenants and landlords in cases where property - owners seize personal property of renters in attempts to force payment of rent.

The girls made Christmas corsages. Next meeting is Dec. 18 at the church. A party will be held and Christmas caroling will follow.

Meetings in the future will be held the first and third Mondays.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Useful Playthings Make Best Gifts

In looking for toys for your child, you naturally consider what will appeal to him, what will be reasonably safe, what will help him learn physical skills and stimulate him to reason, create and invent. Blocks of various dimensions have the most universal and lasting appeal, from the level of mere manipulation to high grade construction. Pieces of wood and other constructive toys which the child can profitably take apart and put together again have obvious value, and there need be no age limit.

THE CHILD from two to five needs crayons, large sheets of paper, cardboard, water paints, scissors, paste and simple tools and materials for construction. Gradually, he can develop a workshop with an ample tool supply.

It's hard to imagine a parent overlooking books as Christmas gifts — books to read to the preschool child and books for him to enjoy reading as he grows older.

Among educational materials are good chemistry sets from which a child may derive some basic scientific principles. Given, however, to the child too young, or to any child who has not yet learned safety precautions, chemistry sets can be hazardous.

—:—

SAFE EDUCATIONAL kits for self-teaching in the natural sciences may be found at any good store. Known as "Golden Capitol Adventure Kits", they include separate kits on rocks, sea shells, insects, birds, stars, weather and plants.

With one of these kits, a child over seven or eight may learn a vast deal of classified nature information.

For example, the kit on birds includes an easy - to - assemble wooden feeding station, bird seed and audubon bird chart. The 94-page booklet with 140 pictures tells how to identify, feed and watch birds.

THESE KITS have been devised and assembled by scientists and educators who know how children learn. They are most unusual, and the price is a modest $2.95. Of all the new types of things developed this year that might be considered "playthings with a purpose," this series strikes me as the best of any I know about.

My bulletin, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Court Dismisses Tenants' Charge In Rental Dispute

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday dismissed a criminal charge against a woman landlord accused of locking up a tenant's household furnishings in an attempt to force payment of $45 in allegedly overdue rent.

The complaint was filed against Mrs. Kathleen Hill, 203 Ravine St., by Eugene Michael and Jay Brown, who said they rented property from her at 942 Dresden Ave.

The affidavit alleged that Michael and Brown were in the act of vacating the property, as requested by the landlord, when Mrs. Hill "seized, locked up and secreted certain personal property of the complainants — a chest of drawers, an end table, a breakfast set and an armchair — for the purpose of converting the property to her own use."

The judge granted a motion to dismiss made jointly by Atty. George Aronson, defense counsel, and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor.

Clark said there was no criminal intent on the part of the landlord, but in filing the charge he sought to "clarify" the relationship of tenants and landlords in cases where property - owners seize personal property of renters in attempts to force payment of rent.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Proper Posture Helps Trim Figure

Act out this on-the-team posture technique: "Pull your dining-room up, and your siting - room down!" With the stomach muscles pulled up snugly, and your sitting muscles pulled down neatly, your figures looks and feels slimmer. . .pounds and inches slimmer.

Ida Jean Kain

The word posture has little meaning until you regard it in terms of shaping your silhouette. Correct alignment helps you to get on the slim up and down muscle track. The center of gravity of the body lies in the pelvic girdle.

The muscles of the buttocks have the very important role of keeping the pelvis pushes forward directly under the rest of the torso. If the buttock muscles are allowed to bustle rearward loosely, the pelvis has a tendency to tilt backward at the base, resulting in sway-back.

THE MAJOR abdominal is a fine strap of muscle that extends from the pubic bone in front of the body, to the breast bone. Using this muscle to pull up to your full height, streamlines the middle measurement.

The abdominals are capable of two movements. . .they pull up and in. The idea of pulling in with these muscles is well known. . . but it's the up-and-in pull which keeps the abdomen flat and firm.

The midsection muscles themselves must "lift" the figure. Don't raise your shoulders, the up-pull muscles are not attached there. Keep shoulders straight, but down and relaxed.

Forget the old rule of "pull your shoulders back". Square your shoulders. If you need a rule, try this, pull your shoulder blades together. And one last reminder, pull up with that bump of self-esteem on the top of your head. Recognize that posture grows old from the shoulder blades up. A rounded upper back is the badge of age.

Act out this exercise: Lie on your back, knees bent, soles of feet on floor, arms out-stretched at shoulder level, with elbows bent so lower arms and upward palms form an L with each shoulder.

Now, roll your pelvis under by pulling up firmly with abdominal muscles and pressing small of back against the floor. Hold for a moment. . .relax and repeat. Hold the muscle contraction, but breathe freely.

FROM THE same position, after contracting with abdominals, raise hips just slightly off floor and maintain the up-and-in-pull . . .hold for slow count of 10. Do not arch small of back. Repeat 5 to 10 times, always holding.

To get the habit of beautiful posture, every time you stop for a traffic light, "pull your dining-room up, your sitting room down". Practice makes perfect.

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for leaflet, "Get A Lift With Posture." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

HAL HUMPHREY

Can Heroes Stand Weekly Exposure?

Why is it that heroes on TV all seem to bear a kind of insipid sameness to one another, while the movies were able to come up with such unalike heroes as Jimmy Stewart, Gary Cooper, Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy?

Hal Humphrey

"You're wrong," says Jim Franciscus, insurance investigating hero on CBS-TV's "The Investigators." "What about Steve McQueen, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Bob Horton and Jim Garner? TV made them and they are all definite individuals.

"You forget, too, that Cooper, Stewart and Gable weren't on every week, it would have been just as difficult to distinguish among them," Jim maintains.

JIM DOESN'T DENY that TV today is a kind of transmission belt for a string of interchangeable "house heroes" on many of TV's crime-adventure series.

I'll go even further and bet that Warner Bros. could switch the heroes of "Hawaiian Eye" with those on "Surf Side 6" for one week and half the viewers wouldn't notice, except maybe in the cases of Poncie Ponce and Cha Cha O'Brien, but then only because the latter happens to be a delectable piece of femininity.

Jim and I got into this debate because I wanted to know how a house hero on a TV series could overcome being swallowed up by this camouflage gray in which the medium seems to be drowning.

-:-

"YOU HAVE TO BE an actor, and you must fight," Jim prescribes. "After we shot the first four 'Investigators' at Revue, I saw that somebody had forgotten to inform the writers about the kind of character I was supposed to play. I saw myself being turned into one of those slick, sexy characters, and the guest star getting to do all the acting."

"So what did you do?"

"I went to Lew Wasserman at MCA, the parent company, and told him. After he saw the first four films he agreed. We got a new producer, and now I think my character in the series is more flexible.

"The trouble with most of the running leads in these TV series is that they never are given a chance to make the emotional commitment in their character."

OF COURSE, in Jim's case, he had a leg up on the situation because of the job he had done as the young detective three years ago on the first season of "Naked City."

Had one of TV's new boys tried that play with MCA's Lew Wasserman, he would have been tossed out on his ear. Jim is an actor and also knows the power politics of show business as it's conducted today.

He also knows that the average TV director is a former film cutter, cameraman or writer. Even if the director has time after setting up his camera shots, he hasn't too much knowledge of how to bring the actor to an interpretation of his role.

"When an actor finds he is getting no direction," says Jim, "then he has to take over and direct himself. There really isn't time in TV for the director to do more than handle the technical end. This is the test of a real actor—to see how much of himself he can bring to a role without the help of the director."

BEFORE EACH episode of "The Investigators," Jim spends 12 hours with his script, learning and studying it. The series didn't have enough power to get past the January cancellation period, but Jim is going to make sure that those who do watch the remaining episodes are aware of Jim Franciscus as the chief investigator.

"You have to have a series to get established today and to ultimately get into movies. Look at Ralph Taeger and Tony Young," says Jim. "Ralph was in the unsuccessful 'Klondike,' and Tony was in that awful 'Gunslinger' thing, but both of them are working in the movies today."

My question is:

Will they be around 30 years later, as Gable and Cooper were?

Crucible Union Sees Some Due SUB Benefits

Under a new arbitration ruling, steelworkers who were unemployed when the 1959 steel strike started will be eligible for Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB).

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. said it had no comment until it has had a chance to study the matter and Joseph D'Alesio, president, of Local 1212 at Midland said he believes some members may be eligible.

The ruling was handed down by Ralph T. Seward, a Washington arbitrator. The dispute involved the Steelworkers and 11 major steel companies.

The companies had refused to pay SUB to workers who were already laid off when the union struck between July 15 and Nov. 7, 1959. The arbitrator said they were entitled to the benefits.

No immediate estimate was available on the number of workers eligible under the ruling or the amount of benefits they will receive.

SUB payments are provided for in the contracts between the union and the companies. They are made by the companies and are calculated so that when added to state unemployment compensation, the payments will give the workers about 65 per cent of their take-home pay.

Seward said the only workers affected are those who were laid off before the strike for reasons unrelated to the strike itself.

Hanoverton Youth Injured

LISBON — A 16-year-old Hanoverton area youth was injured when thrown out of his car as it slammed into a utility pole in Hanoverton Township Monday evening, while a girl with him was unhurt, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Raymond E. Ossman of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital with a fractured jaw, possible skull fracture, concussion, loosened teeth, abrasions of the forehead and bruises of an ear. The mishap was timed at 5:55 p. m.

Officers said he was headed east on Route 172 about five miles west of Route 30 when he lost control on a curve and his 1955 coach skidded broadside into a utility pole. The impact opened the door on his side and he was hurled out.

Gloria Klemann, 15, of Hanoverton R. D. 1, a passenger who remained in the auto, was unhurt. The auto was demolished, the patrol said.

Highway Crash Cuts Chase Short In Bank Holdup

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A highway crash Tuesday night cut short a police chase after a holdup of the Twinbrook branch of the Citizen's Bank of Hamilton.

Police arrested a Cincinnati man in the car and said they recovered about $6,800 in loot from his pockets.

Police said Roscoe Thomas, 34, was pinned in his car when it went off a curve on U.S. 27 and hit a tree, but was not hurt seriously.

Patrolman Ronald Cole, who came to the wrecked car just after the mishap, said he grabbed Thomas before the man could try for a gun in his belt.

No charge was filed immediately.

Teller Kenneth R. Christ said the bandit had returned to the bank at the 6 p.m. closing time after trying unsuccessfully a few minutes earlier to cash a check drawn on another bank. Christ said the man jabbed a pistol at him and ordered the teller to hand over the contents of a cash drawer.

Although the man warned them not to sound the alarm, bank officials tripped the warning system as soon as the bandit drove off.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The question of whether Ohio Bell Telephone Co. can furnish private telephone systems — intercoms— is going to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The Mid-America Telephone Co. of South Euclid is taking the case to the high court. Mid - America contends Ohio Bell is providing serving of "an exclusively private nature," unconnected to its general exchange telephone service.

The utilities commission has rejected a complaint by Mid-America that Ohio Bell has no legal communication service.

Mid - America testified during commission proceedings that it had to go out of business after unsuccessful attempts to sell, service and lease private telephone intercommunication systems. The firm blamed the competition from Ohio Bell.

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

Can Heroes Stand Weekly Exposure?

Why is it that heroes on TV all seem to bear a kind of insipid sameness to one another, while the movies were able to come up with such unalike heroes as Jimmy Stewart, Gary Cooper, Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy?

Hal Humphrey

"You're wrong," says Jim Franciscus, insurance investigating hero on CBS-TV's "The Investigators." "What about Steve McQueen, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Bob Horton and Jim Garner? TV made them and they are all definite individuals.

"You forget, too, that Cooper, Stewart and Gable weren't on every week, it would have been just as difficult to distinguish among them," Jim maintains.

JIM DOESN'T DENY that TV today is a kind of transmission belt for a string of interchangeable "house heroes" on many of TV's crime-adventure series.

I'll go even further and bet that Warner Bros. could switch the heroes of "Hawaiian Eye" with those on "Surf Side 6" for one week and half the viewers wouldn't notice, except maybe in the cases of Poncie Ponce and Cha Cha O'Brien, but then only because the latter happens to be a delectable piece of femininity.

Jim and I got into this debate because I wanted to know how a house hero on a TV series could overcome being swallowed up by this camouflage gray in which the medium seems to be drowning.

-:-

"YOU HAVE TO BE an actor, and you must fight," Jim prescribes. "After we shot the first four 'Investigators' at Revue, I saw that somebody had forgotten to inform the writers about the kind of character I was supposed to play. I saw myself being turned into one of those slick, sexy characters, and the guest star getting to do all the acting."

"So what did you do?"

"I went to Lew Wasserman at MCA, the parent company, and told him. After he saw the first four films he agreed. We got a new producer, and now I think my character in the series is more flexible.

"The trouble with most of the running leads in these TV series is that they never are given a chance to make the emotional commitment in their character."

OF COURSE, in Jim's case, he had a leg up on the situation because of the job he had done as the young detective three years ago on the first season of "Naked City."

Had one of TV's new boys tried that play with MCA's Lew Wasserman, he would have been tossed out on his ear. Jim is an actor and also knows the power politics of show business as it's conducted today.

He also knows that the average TV director is a former film cutter, cameraman or writer. Even if the director has time after setting up his camera shots, he hasn't too much knowledge of how to bring the actor to an interpretation of his role.

"When an actor finds he is getting no direction," says Jim, "then he has to take over and direct himself. There really isn't time in TV for the director to do more than handle the technical end. This is the test of a real actor—to see how much of himself he can bring to a role without the help of the director."

BEFORE EACH episode of "The Investigators," Jim spends 12 hours with his script, learning and studying it. The series didn't have enough power to get past the January cancellation period, but Jim is going to make sure that those who do watch the remaining episodes are aware of Jim Franciscus as the chief investigator.

"You have to have a series to get established today and to ultimately get into movies. Look at Ralph Taeger and Tony Young," says Jim. "Ralph was in the unsuccessful 'Klondike,' and Tony was in that awful 'Gunslinger' thing, but both of them are working in the movies today."

My question is:

Will they be around 30 years later, as Gable and Cooper were?

Holy Name Group Elects

Ernest Purton was elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Aloysius Catholic Church at a meeting Monday night at the Parochial School.

Others named were Louis Skvarka, vice president; Bob Pickering, secretary, and Eddie Finney, treasurer.

The new officers will begin their duties at the January meeting.

The possibility of securing equipment for the weekly "sports" night held each Monday at 6 also was discussed. Men of the parish and boys 14 and up are eligible to attend the sessions, which include basketball, volleyball and weight lifting.

It also completed plans for a breakfast this Sunday which also is Communion Sunday for the society.

A discussion was held on showing religious movies for the parish in the school cafeteria. Thomas Meadows, president, was in charge and Fr. Carl Nicolay was a guest.

Crucible Union Sees Some Due SUB Benefits

Under a new arbitration ruling, steelworkers who were unemployed when the 1959 steel strike started will be eligible for Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB).

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. said it had no comment until it has had a chance to study the matter and Joseph D'Alesio, president, of Local 1212 at Midland said he believes some members may be eligible.

The ruling was handed down by Ralph T. Seward, a Washington arbitrator. The dispute involved the Steelworkers and 11 major steel companies.

The companies had refused to pay SUB to workers who were already laid off when the union struck between July 15 and Nov. 7, 1959. The arbitrator said they were entitled to the benefits.

No immediate estimate was available on the number of workers eligible under the ruling or the amount of benefits they will receive.

SUB payments are provided for in the contracts between the union and the companies. They are made by the companies and are calculated so that when added to state unemployment compensation, the payments will give the workers about 65 per cent of their take-home pay.

Seward said the only workers affected are those who were laid off before the strike for reasons unrelated to the strike itself.

Highway Crash Cuts Chase Short In Bank Holdup

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A highway crash Tuesday night cut short a police chase after a holdup of the Twinbrook branch of the Citizen's Bank of Hamilton.

Police arrested a Cincinnati man in the car and said they recovered about $6,800 in loot from his pockets.

Police said Roscoe Thomas, 34, was pinned in his car when it went off a curve on U.S. 27 and hit a tree, but was not hurt seriously.

Patrolman Ronald Cole, who came to the wrecked car just after the mishap, said he grabbed Thomas before the man could try for a gun in his belt.

No charge was filed immediately.

Teller Kenneth R. Christ said the bandit had returned to the bank at the 6 p.m. closing time after trying unsuccessfully a few minutes earlier to cash a check drawn on another bank. Christ said the man jabbed a pistol at him and ordered the teller to hand over the contents of a cash drawer.

Although the man warned them not to sound the alarm, bank officials tripped the warning system as soon as the bandit drove off.

Monday and 10:30 a. m. Tuesday. The police report was filed at 11:15 Tuesday. The store is adjacent to the Pleasant Heights School.

The intruder obtained eight rolls of pennies totaling $4, a roll of nickels valued at $4, a box of cigars worth $3, bubble gum worth 85 cents, a box of candy worth $1.49, 30 packs of cigarettes worth $3.55 and a model car worth $2.

High Court Due Ohio Bell Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The question of whether Ohio Bell Telephone Co. can furnish private telephone systems — intercoms— is going to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The Mid-America Telephone Co. of South Euclid is taking the case to the high court. Mid - America contends Ohio Bell is providing serving of "an exclusively private nature," unconnected to its general exchange telephone service.

The utilities commission has rejected a complaint by Mid-America that Ohio Bell has no legal communication service.

Mid - America testified during commission proceedings that it had to go out of business after unsuccessful attempts to sell, service and lease private telephone intercommunication systems. The firm blamed the competition from Ohio Bell.

Hanoverton Youth Injured

LISBON — A 16-year-old Hanoverton area youth was injured when thrown out of his car as it slammed into a utility pole in Hanoverton Township Monday evening, while a girl with him was unhurt, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Raymond E. Ossman of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital with a fractured jaw, possible skull fracture, concussion, loosened teeth, abrasions of the forehead and bruises of an ear. The mishap was timed at 5:55 p. m.

Officers said he was headed east on Route 172 about five miles west of Route 30 when he lost control on a curve and his 1955 coach skidded broadside into a utility pole. The impact opened the door on his side and he was hurled out.

Gloria Klemann, 15, of Hanoverton R. D. 1, a passenger who remained in the auto, was unhurt. The auto was demolished, the patrol said.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Wittenberg University's board of directors wound up their semi-annual meeting here Tuesday by approving the largest budget in the school's history and adopting a memorial resolution honoring a Canton benefactor.

The budget totaled $3,923,186, $20,936 more than the tentative budget adopted in June. Honored was the late Harold O. Thomas who died Nov. 26. He, his wife and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sara Krieg of Canton, had given Wittenberg more than $3.1 million since 1955.

2 IN MEMORIAM

ERSILIA LIBERATORE. In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, who was called home 3 years ago today; Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dear and loved by all. Her loving heart has ceased to beat. Before we knew it, she was gone. A bitter grief, a shock severe, To part with one we loved so dear. God loved her too and thought it best. So He took her home to eternal rest. But only those who loved her best can tell, The heartache of not saying a last farewell.
Husband, children and grandchildren.

2 IN MEMORIAM

ERSILIA LIBERATORE. In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, who was called home 3 years ago today; Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dear and loved by all. Her loving heart has ceased to beat. Before we knew it, she was gone. A bitter grief, a shock severe, To part with one we loved so dear, God loved her too and thought it best. So He took her home to eternal rest. But only those who loved her best can tell, The heartache of not saying a last farewell.
Husband, children and grandchildren.

Tiny Performers In Circus Are Dying Like Fleas

BRIGANTINE, N.J. (AP)— The performers in John Torp's circus have been dying off like fleas lately.

Matter of fact, the performers in John Torp's circus are fleas.

The little varmints live only four or five months, and they won't breed in cold weather.

So Torp, 29, a native of Denmark, and his partner, Max Kitson, left their headquarters here Tuesday with about 40 tiny performers, headed for warmer climes.

"Nationwide, there's no shortage of fleas," Torp said, "but they're hard to find here right now."

Just any old flea can't join the circus. Cat and dog fleas, which will breed almost any place, won't do.

"What I want are the large black, six-legged fleas—like you find on people," he said.

Seat Belt's Secret, Man Says In Crashes

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP) — Recently Vernon Y. Leach crash landed a light plane between two apple trees in an orchard he was spraying. He walked away, uninjured.

Two days later, he swerved his car and jammed on the brakes to avert an accident. His car flipped over onto the roof. Again, Leach crawled out uninjured.

What's the secret: Leach says in each instance he was using his seat belt.

Post Retained By Morrison

James H. Morrison was re-elected president and Edward Cilli became the new vice president during the reorganization meeting of the Midland Board of Education Monday evening.

Cilli succeeds John Shovlin III, who has served three terms as vice president.

Both Morrison and Cilli were re-elected to six-year terms as directors at the Nov. 7 election.

The board re-elected the firm of Suffoletta & Masters as solicitors for the coming year at the current fee of $1,800.

Meetings were continued on the second Monday of the month at 8 p. m.

Other officers were not elected since they are serving terms of more than one year.

Morrison, 45, is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He was elected to the school board in 1955 and has served as a member of the personnel committee and chairman of the property committee and the finance committee.

Cilli is presently serving as property committee chairman.

Morrison will announce his new committees later. The board will meet next Monday evening in board offices in the new gymnasium and administration building.

Trustees Set Fee In Street Digging

A fee for opening streets for water, gas or sewage lines, or any other purpose, was established by the St. Clair Township trustees at a meeting Monday night at the Township Hall at Calcutta.

Residents will be charged $15 if the street has to be opened all the way across and $5 if the opening is on the berm along the same side as the home.

The trustees pointed out this will be used to repair the road after the opening has been filled.

G. W. Barrett of Simmons St. asked for an easement to run a city water line along the street. He was informed it is not a public road and has not been accepted by the trustees. Therefore, the easement will have to be set up between the East Liverpool water department and the property owner.

Simmons St. runs between Route 267 and the Lowers Allotment. The trustees will meet again next Monday night at 7.

The time: the night of Jan. 6. The place: either the Buckeye Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus or the Veteran's Memorial Building there.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy accepted the invitation extended by William L. Coleman, Ohio's Democratic state chairman.

The Democratic party is sponsoring the dinner to honor DiSalle's "distinguished service to the state."

Coleman said ticket purchasers would receive membership in the party's "1,000 Club" composed of those making major contributions to the party.
